Two Pages of Pictures Recording Re-enactment of Battle of Princeton on Pages 18 and 19

Brightly-Written New Princeton Youth Directory Offers Its Readers Wide-Ranging Advice

"Princeton Battlefield is perfect for frisbee-ing, skywatching..."

"Apply everywhere you can think of—the worst that can happen is that you won't get the job..."

"By New Jersey law, minors can be treated for V.D. without their parents being informed..."

The new Princeton Youth Directory, just issued by the Council of Community Services, tells you almost everything you want to know about everything, even though a disclaimer on a bright yellow page in front says "there is much more going on in Princeton than is included here."

The new Directory is available, free, at the 221 Witherspoon office of the Council of Community Services and at the Public Library. It's now being reviewed by principals and headmasters at Princeton High, PDS, Stuart and Hun, and whether it will be available at your school is up to the school.

Pages are yellows, oranges, creams, because Janet Pearson, who directs the Council, thought it would be "so dreary, all white."

Art work, variations in lettering and type set off sections like "Jobs," "Sexuality," "After High School...," "Bicycling," "Youth Center," "The Arts."

Liz Rankin, now a senior at Princeton University, did all the writing this summer, working full-time on a ten-week assignment. The style is direct and understandable, not at all condescending. It's written for you, not for your parents.

"Do you feel lonely, confused, or angry with your family or friends?" the "HELP" section begins.

"You aren't alone," it continues, reassuringly.

Following this introduction is a description of Corner House, and the Directory says of this general counselling center, "Most of all, it is a place where you can find someone to talk to."

Then, turning to the Whitney Center branch of the Community Guidance Center, the Directory points out that the counsellor assigned to you can see you three times---and maybe that's all you need or want---without telling your parents.

Don't need help? The Directory will tell you, for example, how to use the University's facilities which are "super," in Liz Rankin's words.

"You need to be the guest of a student to visit the Student Center, the dining halls, the dorms, the classrooms and labs---so make friends with one soon."

"By 'implicit invitation,' as Nassau Hall lingo puts it, you can wander around one of the prettiest campuses in the country...so far, Princeton has been luckier than a lot of cities in that the University has kept its gates open at all...Accept that 'Implicit Invitation!'"

"Perfect bike-riding country, but...lock your bike TO something...it only takes a minute to steal and it's pretty hard to catch someone who's riding your ten-speed away."

Well, you get the idea.

Even if you aren't fighting with your parents, hate biking and aren't looking for a job, the Directory is great just to read.

"The best way to know what's happening at the Youth Center is to drop in and see...Hours are all days, and nights when you see the lights."

Read about the V.D. clinic, and the scary statistic that says V.D. strikes teenagers once every four MINUTES in the U.S. "Rampant," is the word the Directory uses.

There is a lot of specific physiological information so you can see whether maybe you do have V.D. Princeton Hospital runs a V.D. clinic, you learn, where you can be tested and treated without charge. Under state law, minors can be treated without their parents being informed, the Directory tells you, adding that the clinic won't give out reports to anyone--like parents--who might demand them. Not only that, you don't have to give your real name.

In Case of Rape. Also on the serious side, the Directory advises that if you've been raped, "call the WARN hotline." WARN is Women Against

Picturesque Pagentry of Battle's Re-enactment Brings Enjoyment to Thousands of History Buffs

THE BATTLE OF PRINCETON: Played out on a field of snow, even as it was 200 years ago, the Battle of Princeton was re-enacted Monday by over 1,000 volunteer troops. Cliff Moore took this picture and the others in the center spread of this section of TOWN TOPICS.

This Is PRINCETON

Clear, cold and still, with sun on a field of snow -- a day so uncannily like January 3, 1777, when the Battle of Princeton was fought, that even the thermometer took note. Monday's reading was 26 degrees F., compared to 21 degrees the day of the battle 200 years ago.

The re-enactment of the Battle of Princeton Monday was the climax of the "Ten Crucial Days" commemoration in New Jersey, starting Christmas Day with the dramatization of Washington crossing the Delaware.

Watched by a crowd estimated by Township police at 15,000 to 20,000, volunteer regiments from 20 states, as far away as Louisiana, Wisconsin and Florida, marched onto the battlefield 1,200 strong, some to the skirl of a bagpipe, others to the whistle of "Yankee Doodle."

Sun gtinted from rich metal embossings on the uniforms of British officers, and set off in sharp contrast the navy blue capes of the American commanders. It was a serious presentation, executed without flaw by officers who had gone over the maneuvers on paper, time and time again.

Spectators Stranded. Other battle plans were not so carefully executed. Approximately 4,500 people were stranded at shuttle-bus pickups, 1,500 at the Princeton Shopping Center, the others at the University parking lots, waiting for buses that were too few and too late. The fault seemed to lie with the state's Bicentennial planners and with a failure of communication with Mercer Metro.

H. David Erling, field commander of the battle, took his British troops by bus to Mercer Mall, staging area for the battle. He says that six of the ten buses he contracted for never got out of the Mercer Mall lot.

The first bus arrived at the Princeton Shopping Center at 8:40 -- 40 minutes late. Many people had been waiting in the Shopping Center since 7 a.m.

Township police commandeered one empty Mercer Metro bus, but it was only one. Other buses were reportedly driven by drivers who did not know Princeton streets and became lost. To statements from Mercer Metro that buses were held up by traffic, Township Police Chief Fred Porter said this wouldn't have happened if the buses had left in time.

In all, there were apparently only six buses – three from Mercer Metro and three from the Starr company.

Crowds Well-Mannered. "If I'd known how few buses there'd be, there would have been some steam!" Chief Porter said on Tuesday.

Both he and Lt. Michael Lisi had highest praise for the stranded crowds. There was warm language, but never the threat of a disturbance, the officers said.

Early arrivals -- 8:30 or 9 for the 10 a.m. battle that started at 10:35 – found the scene eerily like the 18th-century. Far up the slope away from the Mercer Oak, half a dozen men -- Mr. Erling and his adjutants, British and American -- made final plans. From a distance, in their tricorns and long capes, far from the pick-up trucks hauling cannon or the TV cameras, they might have been Washington and his men in final battle conference.

After marching stiffly down Mercer Road, red-coated soldiers enacting the roles of the 55th regiment and the 17th Foot, moved in from the Road toward the oak tree. Mercer's brigade came forward. Then, there was the first, gut-shaking roar of a cannon (everything from three-pounders to eight-pounders were in the field, size measured by the size of the ball shot).

Soon the field was a-smoke with cannon-fire. Depending on their position, some spectators could even see smoke-rings as the cannons fired.

Slightly Anachronistic. Guided by Mr. Erling as "Lightning" leader, the battle choreography progressed. (The 78th Division, U.S. Army Reserves is known as "Jersey Lightning" and "Lightning" was code word throughout the battle.) "Lightning artillery open fire!" Mr. Erling would command through his sergeant in modern battle

New Youth Directory

Rape Now, and there is a Mercer area chapter, with "friendly, trained volunteers to talk to you on the phone and come to where you are."

Over three pages of the Directory are devoted to alcohol and drugs. Charts show how much you can drink in two hours, according to your weight. You can find out what to do if your parents drink too much and you're frightened.

To underscore the variety in the Directory – "Jobs" come just before the section on sexuality and V.D. That's where you'll learn that if you're 18 or over and out of school, or if you're "disadvantaged," you may be eligible for a "Manpower" training program.

"Think about a volunteer job, to keep yourself busy or to explore a career field," the Directory suggests, and "apply everywhere you can think of....."

The Background. The reason for the Princeton Youth Directory is that, back in 1973, the Council of Community Servicea commissioned a survey of the needs of youth in Princeton. January, 1974, Robby Robertson's report, "Youth Resources and Needs," was issued.

"Since then, we've been whittling away at the needs," Mrs. Pearson says, pointing to the Interim Homes project for youth who need a place to stay for just a little while, and now, to the Directory.

In the beginning, Mark Wright of the Princeton Class of '76, working on the Council as Staff Person for Youth Concerns, met with students at each school and with those in the "Youth Speaks Up" program. Topics in this Directory are those in which all students expressed an interest.

Ms. Rankin then interviewed the personnel of all agencies, assembled the information and did the writing. With Barbara Asch, she designed the bright yellow cover. Tessa Lachman was in charge of production.

The Directory speaks to everybody: you'll even learn that you don't have to be able to sing or play the guitar to join the Princeton Folk Music Society. And did you know that if you're over 18, you can adopt a child?

Borough Council Member's Ancestor Active in Township

Little did he know, Lt. Matthias Hollenback, Sixth Company, 24th Regiment, Connecticut Troop, as he pursued Redcoats on the Princeton battlefield, that his great-great-great grand-daughter would one day be an elected member of the governing body of the Borough of Princeton. (After all, Lt. Hollenback might have said to himself, this battlefield is in the Township.....)

Anyhow, Lt. Hollenback's descendant is Borough Council member Nelson van den Blink. For some time, she'd been wondering whether her Revolutionary War ancestor had indeed fought at Princeton. She knew he had been involved in the bloody battles of the Wyoming Valley but papers that could have told the story were lost in the 1972 Wilkes Barre flood.

Over Christmas week-end, Mrs. van den Blink once again turned to a geneologic album prepared over half a century ago by her grandmother. Nothing there.

But looking over some loose papers and clippings in the front of the album, Mrs. van den Blink came across a yellowed newspaper account, dated 1938, of a reunion of all Hollenback descendants. The newspaper story said the lieutenant had fought at Trenton, Princeton, Brandywine and the battle of the Millstone.

That happy puff of smoke, just over the ridge, was great-great-great grand-dad saying "Hi!"

COMPROMISE ACCEPTED

On Budget by School Board. "It's a merry-go-round without a brass ring," observed a member of Tuesday night's audience. School board president Dietrich Meyerhofer had just described a compromise, slicing just $48,400 from the budget instead of the $316,000 which municipal governing bodies cut, and the board appealed to the state education commissioner.

The proposal had been offered that afternoon in Trenton by Lawrence Anderson, of the commissioner's office.

Board members agreed to the compromise, 9-0, provided both governing bodies accept it, too, and reserving the right to appeal. Borough and Township governments will discuss the proposal this Thursday night.

January 24 is the state's deadline for determining budget "caps" for next year. If the budget isn't settled by then, Mr. Anderson warned, the fully-cut budget would be used as the foundation for next year's budget.

"He told us, 'You'd damn well better settle," Dr. Meyerhofer reported.

Mr. Anderson told the board municipalities have no "say" whatever in salaries. They can cut only new positions and programs that increase a budget. Any other positions towns cut, will be restored.

Mr. Anderson kept the Borough-Township cut of $24,400 for staff development since that position isn't now filled. He restored $63,300 in office salaries. He cut only $24,000 instead of $48,100 in maintenance, and said the board might get the whole $48,100 if it could make a case. He restored $180,200 in salaries and sabbaticals.

Having cut $48,400, he told Princeton to take $50,000 from its $100,000 surplus, making $98,400 which would go to reduce taxes. This means the tax levy would be $217,600 instead of $316,000, but the budget would be bigger by $267,000 because of the $50,000 from surplus.

After the Trenton meeting, Dr. Meyerhofer reported, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said to Township Mayor Josie Hall, "I'll have more trouble selling this than you will."

Dr. Meyerhofer said he thinks the municipalities will accept. If they don't, the board will go back to the commissioner, make a case for the maintenance money, get it, and end up with a higher budget.

Municipalities have offered $180,000. "This is only $37,000 more," observed board member Winthrop Pike.

VERBAL BULLETS FLY

As Council Reorganizes. Gun-fire in a new battle of Princeton resounded in Borough Hall New Year's Day.

Republican William Selden abstained in the otherwise unanimous vote for Democrat Martin P. Lombardo for Council president and explained in a lengthy fusillade why he had done so. Mr. Lombardo brought up heavy artillery, Mr. Selden retorted with small-arms fire and the battle lines for 1977 were drawn.

Meanwhile in the Township, Princeton's first woman mayor, Republican Josie Hall, was sworn in.

Mr. Selden said that, although the president of Council post is largely symbolic, it should be filled by someone with comprehension and understanding of municipal government, temperament suited to hard work, ability to obtain the cooperation of Borough employees, concern for the welfare of everyone and all institutions in town, and willingness to consult with other people on Council. He named no names.

He told Council and the standing-room audience that Mr. Lombardo was regarded, "fairly or unfairly," as a divisive influence in the community. He also said that he'd discussed all this earlier with Mr. Lombardo, and was not springing it on him as a surprise.

Count the Ballots. Mr. Lombardo, who had earlier, when he was sworn in for his third term, portrayed himself as a lonely office-holder, taking on unpopular causes and subjected to in-fighting by Democrats and opposition by Republicans, replied to Mr. Selden by reminding him that he -- Mr. Lombardo -- had been resoundingly elected three times.

Not only had Mr. Selden been elected only once, Mr. Lombardo said, but he'd run third this fall in the list of vote-getters. (Richard Woodbridge, Republican, was top vote-getter and Mr. Lombardo second.) And not only that, the Selden report on the future of Princeton's schools, had been "drastically repudiated" by Princeton's voters.

The report, issued in 1971, had many recommendations, some of which have been followed. The most striking rejection was the report's recommendation for renovation of the high school building.

"The only way to deal with your statement is at the polls," Mr. Lombardo declared. "You've been elected only once, I've been elected three times." Later, he gave to reporters a sheet printed in half-inch-high black letters detailing the votes received by himself, Mr. Selden and other 1976 Borough candidates.

Selden Replies. "I was chairman of a citizens committee – a nonpartisan body," Mr. Selden retorted. "I have studiously been a member of no party because I didn't want that report brought into civil politics and I'm aghast that it has been today."

Each combatant represented himself as without partisan political motives. The skirmish ended when Mayor Robert W. Cawley quickly said, ".....and now we'll swear in our new fire chief, Anthony Krystaponis."

Earlier, retiring Council member Joseph P. Moore gave a moving tribute to the support given him by his two children, niece and nephew. His successor – Mr. Woodbridge – said it would be hard to fill Mr. Moore's shoes and suggested that the future of Princeton is more important than its past or present.

Appointments included Marvin Trotman to the Joint Recreation Board, opposed in the agenda session by Mr. Selden; Marvin Goldberger to public tranaportation; Lawrence Norris Kerr to the Environmental Commission and James J. Combs to the Sewer Operating Committee.

In the Township, Mayor Hall named Karl Light to the Planning Board, replacing Gerald Breese. Mr. Light, a realtor, is also a neighbor of the proposed 650-unit Dravo housing development.

Nancy Becker, Ralph Phillips and John F. Kelsey were appointed to the Zoning Board and Curtis Clark to public transportation. Marsel Heisel was named to the commission on aging, and William Cherry, Corinne Black and Araxy Foster to the housing advisory council. Anne K. Adriance will serve on the shade tree commission.

On Committee itself, Elizabeth Hutter will join the Borough's William Selden as liaison to the school board. J.B. Smith is the board's appointee to that group.

Mayor Hall will keep the public safety post, and Margaret Broadwater will retain her appointment to the Planning Board. New Committee member Hugo Hoogenboom will have the finance portfolio, housing, building and zoning and historic sites. His colleague, new member David Blair, will be assigned public works, civil rights, waste and the Environmental Commission.

HER HONOR, THE MAYOR: As her husband, Harleston Hall Jr., looks on, Josie Hall is sworn in by Magistrate Philip Carchman as mayor of the Township. She is the first woman in Princeton History -- Borough or Township -- to occupy the mayor's chair, although women have run for the office.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

In Bumper-to-Bumper Traffic. That bumper-to-bumper traffic in Princeton Monday morning was not without incident.

At 9:55 in heavy traffic on Stockton Street, William A. Murray, 37, of Trenton, ran into the rear of a car operated by 78-year old E.R. Vanderhoff of Milltown, 50 feet from the intersection of Hibben Road.

Mr. Vanderhoff was taken by the First Aid Squad to Princeton Medical Center for treatment of a whiplash. Charged by Sgt. Thomas Michaud with careless driving, Mr. Murray told police that he had taken his attention from the road to glance at his gas gauge. His car to be towed.

At 10:37 the same morning, Bernard Dwork, 43, 112 Philip Drive, a cyclist riding on Witherspoon Street between Spring and Nassau, had to veer into the line of traffic to avoid a car emerging from the curb.

As he did so, he ran into the side of a taxi driven by Jeff Grover, 24, of Skillman and was dragged a short distance before falling down. Mr. Dwork was taken by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino to the Medical Center, where he was treated for contusion of the hip. Sgt. Michaud investigated.

Shortly after 5 Sunday, Ptl. David Cromwell lost control of his Township patrol car as he was rounding a curve on ice-covered Herrontown Road near Poor Farm Road.

He was treated at the Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the head after his car ran off the road and struck a tree.

Frank R. Martinez, 25, of Woodland Hills, California, has reason to remember the end of 1976.

He was traveling south on Quaker Road less than three hours before midnight on New Year's Eve when his car veered across the northbound lane, ran across a ditch and into a field for some 120 feet. It then curved back toward Quaker Road, across the ditch again, where it rolled over.

Mr. Martinez sustained lacerations of the arm and hand. He was ticketed by Ptl. Renn Kaminski for failure to keep right.

Right now, we're in a milding trend, but hardly a January thaw. Temperatures for the next two or three days are expected to run a bit above normal--probably just enough to make the next precipitation rain and not snow.

Who They Were and Why They Came to Princeton: A Cross-Section of True American History Buffs

They came from 20 states, including all 13 original colonies and as far away as Michigan and Louisiana. They were boilermakers, bookkeepers, museum custodians, podiatrists, principals and students–men of all walks of life who have at least one thing in common, a love of history and a genuine enjoyment in bringing it to life.

They were the 1250 troops, British and American, some of whom came with their wives and children as camp followers and drummers, who on Sunday and Monday re-enacted the Second Battle of Trenton and the Battle of Princeton.

As other people collect stamps or antique toys or become knowledgeable about meteorology, these men are collectors of regimental Revolutionary history. They depict the line infantry of the period by wearing exact replica clothing and equipment, firing flintlock muskets and performing authentic drills of the 18th century. Some regiments have a fife and drum corps, as well as attached artillery with an authentic replica cannon.

Many are veterans of earlier Revolutionary commemorative battles and they speak fervently of these engagements as if they just happened. "We were in the Arnold expedition to Quebec last summer," said a young man with the New Hampshire Dearborn group that camped out in tents for a whole week in sub-freezing weather in Washington Crossing Park, as he recounted the numerous campaigns in which his group had fought.

Why They Join. Fellowship and the ability to participate as a family are also key factors for the men joining these regiments, along with the opportunities of traveling to different parts of the country often with specially arranged tours of a historic landmark as a bonus. Members of the Michigan 66th Regiment were looking forward, for instance, to a special tour of the ship U.S.S. "Constitution" in Boston harbor arranged by a man from a Massachusetts regiment they met at the Battle of White Plains.

In addition to re-enactments, a regiment will give performances demonstrating the drill, uniform and tactics of the Revolutionary War soldier. They appear in parades and at historic sites and even in documentary and educational films made by Public TV stations. The Second Pennsylvania Regiment, which doubles as the British 43rd Regiment of Foot, schedules about two events a month on weekends from mid-April through October, and each member is expected to attend a minimum of 10.

Because it is a dual regiment, a new recruit to the Second Pennsylvanians must be prepared to spend about $800 in the initial three-year period to obtain the required British uniform and kit, the American parade dress uniform and the simple American linen hunting shirt. Most regiments have patterns for every item worn, and many men sew their own uniforms painstakingly by hand. Ongoing research at museums and of private collections and period manuscripts to assure the highest degree of authenticity is part and parcel of the regiment's work, along with learning the 18th Century manual of arms drill.

On the field of battle at a re-enactment, each man knows the standard or flag of his regiment and that of the man he stands next to. The officers, who are briefed ahead of time as to the general plan of the battle, bark out the orders and the men execute them. A sergeant of the 1st Rhode Island Regiment which fought as part of Hitchcock's Division at Monday's battle explained, "You play it by ear and it more or less goes according to plan, just as in a real battle."

dress, walkie-talkie on his back.

Following the battle plan, Mercer's men broke and the British, commanded by walkie-talkie to "Fix bayonets!" charged. Although, historically, General Washington on his horse rallied the troops, no one portrayed Washington – or mortally wounded General Hugh Mercer – in this re-enactment, dedicated as it was to the anonymous soldier of the line. However, a mounted soldier bearing a white-starred blue banner did ride across the field.

As the long line of Continental soldiers emerged over the ridge behind the Clarke House, first hats, then heads, then shoulders and bodies, one spectator shouted "Look at those Americans come!"

Helicopters Overhead. During the battle, State Police helicopters -- one bearing Township Police Officer David Campbell – chopped overhead, and a lone dog wandered in confusion, at the edge of the battle smoke.

Spectators were surprised at how long it took for anyone to be "wounded." Mr. Erling explains that 18th-century warfare was not the carnage we expect today, and only 100 were wounded in the original battle.

After the victory on the field, British and Continentals alike marched back down Mercer Road to Nassau Hall for the formal surrender...Indian field scouts, officers in splendid furred capes, one Continental with feet realistically wrapped in straw and rags, drummer-boys and fife-players, the carriage of a cannon, Scottish regiments, blue-kneed in kilts.

Behind Nassau Hall, on Cannon Green, a thundering six-pound bronze cannon was fired, rebounding from the stone walls of campus buildings and frightening a skittish horse. It was the first cannon fired there since Alexander Hamilton had put a ball into Nassau Hall after the battle in 1777.

Here, after brief words from former Governor Robert Meyner, state Bicentennial chairman -- who hastily corrected himself after he'd referred to recent events as the "battle of Trenton" -- Governor Brendan T. Byrne and the Governor of Virginia, the troops of both sides were reviewed, the militia went back to their plows and the Ten Crucial Days ended.

Len Brown Back at Princeton Youth Center

Len Brown is back at the Princetoo Youth Center.

Mr. Brown who left the Center's directorship in June, 1974, has kept in close touch during the difficult times the Center has had in recent years, and he said this week, "My feeling has always been one of wanting to see this institution GO!"

His new plans go beyond the usual recreation activities normally associated with the big brick building on Witherspoon and Green. Adult education is one thing on his mind.

For example, he'd like to start seminars in the New Jersey state income-tax, draw on Princeton's lawyers, stock brokers and business entrepreneurs ("this town is wealthy in talent") for courses in real estate investment, baking services, budgeting, how to buy a car, the management of small business.

"Perhaps we could show people how to set up their own businesses. There should be more black business in the community."

For high-school graduates not interested in college, he suggests exploration of interim jobs in stenography, real estate sales, travel agencies.

"Those are fields where the potential is phenomenal and the chance to make a decent buck is pretty much up to the individual. It could be a step toward owning their own business."

Although Mr. Brown shakes his head at the Center's weight-lifting equipment–"weight-lifting! The YMCA has better facilities than we can ever have–kids should go there!"–he still isn't ignoring the Center's classic role as a recreation spot. Week-end dances, trips, trying to get a team into the Y baseball league in the spring, pool, karate–all are on his agenda.

He is very aware of possible duplications with other Princeton agencies, like the Y, and thinks the Center could do more than it has to refer students to this agency or that.

But mostly he wants to see the Center "GO!" "I'd hate like hell," he says, with emphasis, "to see this institution go down the drain."

Fund Tops $4,000

Gifts to TOWN TOPICS 29th annual Christmas Appeal this week totalled $4,023.

All of the money contributed is used on behalf of Princeton area residents certified as in need of assistance by the Family Service Agency, a member of the United Fund. TOWN TOPICS meets all administrative costs.

Contributions aiding the year-round program may still be made to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and mailed to P.O. Box 664, Princeton.

3 GIRLS CHARGED

With Intoxication. Two 16-year old girls from Kendall Park and a 15-year old girl from Dayton have been charged with public intoxication by Borough police.

Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Ptl. William Clark responded to a call at 8:30 last Wednesday evening that three teenagers were intoxicated in the area near the Princeton Playhouse. They were taken to headquarters and turned over to the Borough juvenile officer for processing.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that police are continuing the investigation to determine if the liquor they were drinking was purchased in Princeton.

TAXI DRIVER CHARGED

With Open Lewdness. A 62-year old taxi driver was charged with lewdness by police after he allegedly exposed himself last week to one of his passengers.

Police said that a Hamilton Avenue resident had returned to Princeton in a cab and as she went to open the door to her house the driver was behind her and exposed himself. His description and donors who live in the Township, was channeled through the New Jersey Conservation Foundation, to assure anonymity.

At a year-end meeting last Wednesday, Committee authorized $7,580 toward a study proposed by General William Whipple of Rutgers of the soil erosion management of urban streams.

Committee also settled the Stuart Road east sewer assessments, assigning around $63,000 to Princeton Community Housing, Inc. for its village. Committee took 20 percent of the total assessment and used it as a deferred assessment in case the sewer is extended. PCH originally was assessed some $80,000 and had protested the sum, pointing out that the sewer extended beyond what they required. Future builders along the line will be charged the deferred assessment.

This Thursday at 8 p.m. Committee will consider the merger request of Borough and Township Environmental Commissions and will discuss consultants for the development of Basin Park, on Lower Alexander. The capital budget allotment is $70,000.

PROJECT ON ITS WAY

On Mt. Lucas Road. Breaking ground symbolically through snowdrifts, the Housing Authority last Wednesday started toward construction of the 100 units of public housing on Mt. Lucas Road. Christened Redding Terrace—at least, the units for the elderly—the project is usually known by the name of its chief developer, Benedict Yedlin.

Ground-breaking was required before the end of 1976. The contract calls for completion in 15 months. Work is being done by the joint venture of Benedict Yedlin and Leon Weiner and Associates. The J. Robert Hillier firm is the architect.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN

During Battle Re-enactment. While the 1777 Battle of Princeton was being re-enacted in Princeton Monday morning, a fire destroyed a barn on nearby Reed Sod Farm on Province Line Road.

Treated at the Princeton Medical Center were Earl Wilbur, Assistant Chief of the Lawrenceville Fire Company, who complained of chest pains, and Fireman Charles Cullen, who injured his leg. Firemen from the Lawrence Road and Pennington Road companies also assisted at the scene.

Lawrence police report that wooden sod pallets inside the barn may have been ignited by a faulty stove.

In Princeton, Mrs. William J. O'Shaughnessy, 35 Clover Lane, smelled smoke in her house early Sunday morning and wakened her husband and two children, 3 and 6.

A general alarm was sounded at 1:35 for a roof fire believed started by sparks from the fireplace. Damage to the home was confined to both sides of the wall, where it met the fire chimney and the roof area.

Mr. O'Shaughnesay told police that he had placed the last log in the fireplace earlier in the evening at 9 p.m.

STUDENTS' ROOM LOOTED

In Holder Halt. While its two occupants were home for the holidays, a thief entered their room in Holder Hall on the University campus last week by forcing the front door.

Stolen from one was a cassette tape player, stereo system, digital clock-radio and a typewriter with a combined value of $926. A stereo receiver was taken from the other occupant, police said.

Another student reported on Monday that her blue leather wallet containing $10 and credit cards had been stolen from the third floor of the architectural building.

Home is Entered. A number of items were stolen last Wednesday between 5 and 7 p.m. from the home of Michael David, 14½ Leigh Avenue.

Taken from downstairs rooms were a $455 stereo amplifier and cassette tape deck and a 35mm camera valued at $150. From bedrooms upstairs, a man's gold watch, woman's wallet containing credit cards, a knife in a black leather case and a small amount of coins from a glass on a window sill were all missing.

The intruder entered by prying open the front door. Ptl. Harry Morton investigated.

A cigarette vending machine in the laundry room of 96 Einstein Drive—a housing unit at the Institute for Advanced Study—was pried open and an unknown amount of money taken from the coin box.

BROTHERS ARRESTED

Charged with Assault. Two brothers, Alfred and John Enright, 23 and 21, were charged with assault and battery following an altercation in the Hudibras Restaurant at 3:45 a.m. New Year's day. Both are residents of Somerset.

The assault complaint was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Lucid of Mark Plains. In addition, Alfred Enright was charged with assault by the bartender, David Derr, after he allegedly grabbed Mr. Derr and tried to pull him over the bar.

No one was seriously injured, police said. Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. Gerald Patterson investigated.

Shortly before midnight New Year's Eve, the same two officers arrested Martin F. Nestor, 24, of Nathan Hale Avenue, Lawrenceville, and charged him with being drunk and disorderly, assault on a police officer and possession of under 25 grams of marijuana. He was scheduled to appear in court this Wednesday afternoon.

According to police, they found Nestor in the roadway at Nassau and Chestnut, stopping cars and using profane language. A fight erupted between Nestor and a motorist when he broke the antenna off the later's car and kicked it several times.

Police report that he tried to punch Ptl. Patterson before they were able to subdue him and bring him to headquarters.

Public Meeting Planned Next Wednesday On Problems of Biohazardous Research

A public meeting on research involving poteotially biohazardous materials will be sponsored jointly by Princeton University, the Princeton Borough Council, and the Princeton Township Committee at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, January 12 in Whig Hall on the University campus.

Prof. Robert M. May, the chairman of the university's Subcommittee on Biohazardous Research and the principal author of the subcommittee's recent report, "Recommendations for the Conduct of Research with Biohazardous Materials at Princeton University" (Dec. 6, 1976), will discuss the general issues raised by the development of new biochemical techniques that permit the artificial recombination of DNA molecules and their use in genetic research, as well as the specific recommendations of the subcommittee. He and other members of the subcommittee will then be available to answer questions and participate in the public discussion.

One of the recommendations in the subcommittee's report was that a continuing effort be made to inform the general public, both within the university and in the broader community, about the trends in genetic research, and, in particular, the possible benefits and risks from artificial recombinant DNA work. University officials consulted with members of Borough Council and Township Committee, and it was agreed that a jointly-sponsored public discussion of the topic was an appropriate way to initiate that informational process aod to solicit the views of the community on this issue. All interested members of the community are invited.

WINTER TERM COMING

To Adult School. An antidote to the winter doldrums is the wide variety of courses featured in the winter semester of the Princeton Adult School starting on February 2. The five or ten-week sessions will meet on Tuesday or Thursday evenings at Princeton High School.

One new class is "Show Stoppers," instruction in writing original comedy material for the stage, taught by Daniel Berkowitz. Another is "Facets of the future," an introductory seminar on questions such as whether the world will further benefit from science and technology or be increasingly threatened by man's inventions and by population explosion. The course will be taught by Fred Kling, a research advisor at Educational Testing Service.

"Helping Yourself to Health," a seminar for those who wish to keep fit, will be taught by Dr. Irene Oppenheim, author of three books on consumer topics and a past president of the American Council on Consumer Information.

Artist Helen Schwartz, TOWN TOPICS art critic, will lead a course in "Understanding Art, a Technical Exploration." Also new in the art section is a five-week course in Japanese Flower Arranging, taught by Mrs. Hiromi Guignon.

Another five-week course is gardening and landscaping, taught by Hardy Petersen, and two five-week sessions have been scheduled for a new class, "Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation," taught by certified Red Cross instructor Carole Reifsteck. For parents worried about the college years ahead for their children, Jane Sehmann will coordinate symposiums of experts on "Pre-College Admission Decisions."

Masterpieces of the modern stage from Ibsen through Albee will be covered in Prof. Lawrence Dawson's course in "Modern Drama." Robert J. Wickenheiser will be on hand to teach modern lyric poetry, Prof. Kurt Sonnenfeld will teach "Ulysses," and Eugene Dougherty will continue with his class in creative writing in a four-week course, February 3-24.

This semester there will be a course in beginning classical guitar taught by Durant Robertson. Folk guitar and recorder are other music classes as well as the continuing course in piano.

A full roster of language courses, including English for the Speakers of Other Languages, is contemplated. Several cooking classes and courses in typing, bicycle repair, calligraphy, practical picture framing, yoga, and high school equivalency science are among the listings.

Brochures are being mailed to Princeton area residents. Additional copies will be available at the Public Library after mid-January. Registration is by mail or in person at the open house January 20 at the High School.

REGISTRATION NEEDED

For Township Rental Units. Owners of rental property in Princeton Township are reminded that registration of every building or part thereof that is rented for human habitation or use as a dwelling as of January 1 of each year must be registered by the owner with the Township Clerk on or before February 1.

Rental registration forms are available in Township Hall. There is no fee involved.

We Were Taken, Too

Two more Borough stores have called police headquarters to report that they, too, were victims of three professional bad check artists who were arrested here last week.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that Zinder's, 102 Nassau Street, reported receiving a bogus check for $39.27 and Nassau Liquors, 94 Nassau, one for $70.13. As a consequence, additional charges will be made against the three suspects, Chief Carnevale said. The defendants gave addresses from Burlington and Mount Holly.

DOG LICENSES ON SALE

Township Deadline Jan. 31. The Princeton Township Clerk's Office has announced that 1977 dog licenses are now on sale in Township Hall, State and Valley Roads, between the hours of 9 and 5, Monday through Friday. New dog licenses must be purchased on or before January 31; after that time, a penalty of $2 per month will be added to the cost. A valid rabies vaccination certificate (one which does not expire for at least six months) must be shown at the time the license is purchased. The cost of the license is $4.

ENERGY TO BE TOPIC

Of Symposium in February. "Energy Decisions for Tomorrow," a two-day symposium sponsored by the Princeton University School of Engineering and Applied Science and by the New Jersey Sierra Club, will be held here February 18 and 19.

The symposium will focus on energy-related decisions affecting the future of New Jersey. Topics to be covered will include the roles in energy decision-making played by utilities and regulatory agencies, community and union representatives, consumers and energy suppliers, and legislators.

Among those who expect to take part in the symposium are Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, a leading Congressional exponent of energy planning, who will deliver the keynote address; Shepard Bartnoff, president of New Jersey Central Power and Light; Joel Jacobson, chairman of the state Public Utilities Commission; Alvin Thompson, a committeeman from Lacey Township (location of the Oyster Creek nuclear station); Louis Marinari, chairman of Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International; William Beren, a lobbyist for the League of Conservation Legislation; and Frank J. Dodd, state senator and chairman of the Energy Crisis Commission. Panelists will include the following energy writers: Bill Lanouette of The National Observer, Luther Carter of Science Magazine, and Donald Janson of The New York Times.

The symposium will be open to the public but space limitations require preregistration. Further information is available by calling the Department of Aerospace and Mechanical Sciences at Princeton University, (609) 452-4670, or by writing "Energy Conference," D-214 Engineering Quadrangle, Princeton, N.J., 08540.

PROGRAM TO RESUME

In Child Care at YMCA. Creative Child Care program at the YMCA will resume class on Monday, January 10. This program is designed to provide an afternoon of creative and physical activities for children ages 3-5, with emphasis on the social development of the child.

Creative dramatics, songs and arts and crafts are an integral part of the program. On certain days the children have pool-play and gym under the care of the youth director. On Tuesday and Thursday, there is a music program guided by a teacher skilled in developing a child's response to rhythm.

The program is from 11:45 to 3:45 each day, and may be enjoyed from one to five days a week. For further information call 924-4825.

Unfunny Holiday.
To the Editor:

WE were given a holiday to see the Battle of Princeton. But all we got to see were some very angry people at a parking lot, and NO BUSES! Is this someone's idea of a joke?

Come and Be Heard.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Next Tuesday, January 11, at 8 p.m. at Princeton Borough Hall, Borough Council will meet to make what may be a landmark decision about the future character of Princeton.

Borough Council recently voted approval of the Stony Brook Regional Sewer Authority's Plan A. On January 11, the Borough Enviornmental Commission will present its resolution urging reconsideration of that vote.

Plan A calls for one sewerage plant on River Road to serve the entire Stony Brook-Bedens Brook area and much of the Millstone watershed. An interceptor sewer line will require a 50-foot right of way for nine miles and could stimulate a ribbon of residential and commercial growth from Pennington and Hopewell boroughs to the edge of Kingston.

Princeton Township Committee has already voted against Plan A and in favor of a multi-plant system in which the upstream towns will have their own systems and their own plants.

The January 11th meeting will present a great opportunity to hear the entire subject aired and to make personal opinions known.

A Friend in Need.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

To the Post Office:

It's time someone sang your praises. I'm getting very tired of nothing but bad news and griping.

My daughter just returned from a three-year job in Kenya and during that time she accumulated a certain amount of novel possessions she did not wish to leave behind. In short, she packed ten cardboard cartons, pasting them shut with strips of sticky paper and tied with yards and yards of string.

Nevertheless, after arriving by boat in New York some of them obviously were not going to make it. So some kind soul at the Post Office there, at the height of the Christmas season, carefully repacked three of those cartons and all ten arrived here safely.

I think the U.S. Post Office is doing a great job!

Housing Need Remains Acute.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I attended the first meeting of the Princeton Borough Council for 1977 and left feeling as follows: For a Council member to accuse a fellow member as being "divisive" really leads nowhere. Like the rest of us, public officials have differences of opinions and each has the right to speak his (or her) mind on virtually any subject.

At issue is Martin Lombardo's statement last summer on the need for more housing in Princeton. Rather than attack him for what he said, shouldn't the Borough Council be doing what it can to help bring about less expensive housing in Princeton?

This past week there were ground-breaking ceremonies in the Township for a new 100-unit project of the Princeton Housing Authority. It took more than five years to get that project through local roadblocks (though there were some Federal ones as well). Approximately the same amount of time was needed to make Lloyd Terrace a reality.

Neither of these projects nor Princeton Community Housing in the Township can meet the housing requirements of hundreds of people who work in Princeton but who cannot afford to live here. Must we continue to relegate them to "satellite" communities?

Thus, the housing issue cannot be dismissed by charging proponents of low- and moderate-income housing as being motivated solely by politics. Nor can we ignore the fact that nearly two-thirds of Borough property is currently tax-exempt. Possible donation of land by non-profit property-owners (Princeton University is, of course, the largest) is one avenue to be explored by the Borough Council and the Princeton Township Committee in the search for viable ways to ease the present housing shortage.

The Tatt Men.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The American Bicentennial Year brought to our shores a parade of magnificent "Tall Ships"—a most impressive sight which I shared with a few million others.

On January 3, 1977, following re-enactment of the "Battle of Princeton," at the Battlefield, no less than 1200 "soldier" participants marched from there, to, and up, Nassau Street, to Nassau Hall.

Twelve hundred of them! Truly, they "stood tall."

I can recall no more surprising, or patriotically impressive display. And all of them on their own time, at their own expense—arms, uniforms, travel from 20 states—a sum far beyond the resources of even a national commission to expend for one day in one area.

It is good to know that there still are Americans who care, who plan, who participate, in historic, national and patriotic endeavors. Let us again recognize all who made arrangements, and once more, for the marchers: A Salute to these 'Tall Men.'

Cigarette Sign Disturbing
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have written to the Mercer County Park Commissioners.

"As an organization whose activities are devoted to the prevention and alleviation of lung disease, the Delaware Raritan Lung Association is acutely aware of the health problems caused by smoking.

"The plans to erect a 15-foot high advertisement for cigarette smoking at the Mercer County Softball Fields disturbs us. A public body whose function is parks and recreation should not be responsible for encouraging young athletes and their spectators to smoke.

"Cigarette smoking is the major cause of emphysema, chronic bronchitis, lung cancer and heart disease. Just one cigarette speeds up your heart beat, increases your blood pressure, upsets the flow of blood and air in your lungs.

"Cigarette ads have been banned on national television. A county softball field should not be the place to condone smoking."

News Of Clubs and Organizations

Kathy Murray will give a talk and cosmetics demonstration at the YWCA's Newcomers Club meeting Thursday, January 13 at 12:30 at the YMCA-YWCA, Paul Robeson Place.

Ms. Murray is representative of "i" Natural Cosmetics, which are made from natural oils and fruit bases with chemical preservatives added only to prevent bacteria. In addition, Mrs. James Sayen of Princeton Friends of Foreign Students will speak about her organizations activities.

The Newcomers Club invites all women who have lived for two years or less in the area served by the Princeton YWCA to attend. For further information, call Jead Chido, 655-1061, or Donna Weplo, 921-6208. General meetings are held the second Thursday of each month.

The Women's Division of the Princeton Jewish Center will meet Wednesday evening, January 12, at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street. The Senior Youth Group will present their reflections on Zionism. Judaism, and The Princeton Jewish Center in an informal panel discussion with audience participation.

Refreshments will be served. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

The YWCA International Club will present Joe Budelis with a slide presentation on "Mexico By Air" Thursday, January 13, at 8 in the YM-YWCA Lounge. All are invited.

Dr. William Moskowitz, a Somerville optometrist who has studied at the Gesell Institute and treats children with perceptually related learning disabilities, will speak on the diagnosis and treatment of perceptual problems associated with schizophrenia Sunday at 2 in the First National Bank of Central Jersey, Rocky Hill. The talk is sponsored by the Schizophrenia Foundation of New Jersey and is open to the public.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will meet Monday at 8 in the Firestone Library staff lounge. Dessert and coffee will be served.

Nancy L. Tindall, selected as the 1976-77 Young Career Woman by the New Jersey Federation of BPW Clubs, will speak. She is manager of branch planning and assistant cashier of the New Jersey National Bank, Trenton, and represented New Jersey at the National Convention of BPW clubs in the fall.

Donna Walker, chairman of the Young Career Woman committee for the Princeton Club, will present the club's candidates for the 1977-78 year. Meetings are open to all working women. To attend this meeting, call Mrs. Teddy Marciniak evenings, 921-7125, and to know more about the aims and activities of BPW call Mrs. Lorraine Hilst, 924-9733, or Mrs. Jone-Lough Tobin, 924-0030.

Ideas for the smooth addition of a new baby to the family will be discussed at this month's La Leche League meeting, "Getting Started as a Nursing Family," to be held Monday at 8 at 40 Einstein Drive.

For more information call Peggy Killmer, 921-8254.

Alumnae and friends of Mills College will have a supper meeting Sunday at 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn White III, 5 Greenholm. The Whites will discuss their trip to China, and Mrs. Sheldon Marshall of Norwood, president of the New York Area Mills group, will bring news of the California campus. All those interested in Mills are invited and should phone Mrs. William P. Starr Jr., 921-2297, for reservations by Friday.

The YWCA Friday Club will meet Friday for lunch at 12:30 in the all-purpose room of the YM-YWCA. The program will be a white elephant sale for which contributions may be brought on the day of the sale.

Those needing rides may call the YWCA, 924-4825, before 11 Friday.

The Lawrence Township Senior Citizen Club 2 will meet Tuesday at 1 in the American Legion Hall, 100 Berwyn Place, Lawrence Township.

Officers installed at the Christmas party are president, Sally Knowles; vice president, Ann Capes; secretary, Gertrude Ringkamp; and treasurer, Helen Begley.

Anne W. Wood, of Swarthmore, Pa., professional horticulturist, lecturer, author, photographer and leader of garden tours, will be the guest speaker at the Dogwood Garden Club on Thursday, January 13, at the home of Mrs. William E. Reaser. Mrs. Reaser will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Williams.

Mrs. Wood will speak on "Gardens of the World" and with the use of slides will emphasize gardens from her most recent tour of Australia and New Zealand.

The Princeton chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet Thursday, January 13, at 2 in the YM-YWCA. In response to many requests for information for senior citizens on medical and hospital care, Jeanne Beazley, patients' accounts manager at Princeton Medical Center, will speak on "Medicare: How to Use it." A question and answer period will follow.

NAMED PARTNER

In Law Firm. Mrs. Edith S. Rose of 112 Galbreath Drive West has been admitted to partnership in the law firm of Smith, Cook, Lambert and Miller, One Palmer Square as of January 1.

Mrs. Rose was graduated in 1944 from Barnard College and in 1946 from Columbia Law School. She is a member of the New York and New Jersey Bar. Mrs. Rose has been a resident of Princeton for over 20 years and has been an associate member of Smith, Cook, Lambert and Miller since January of 1974.

SQUAD RENEWS DRIVE

To Double Contributions. Not yet having reached the half-way mark in its 1976 fund drive, the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has embarked on a second mailing of its printed appeal.

Squad members stuffed, labeled, and sorted 8,000 mailers as a follow-up to their previous effort, in hopes that additional contributions would help to double the somewhat more than $20,000 that has been received so far. DeWitt Boice of the Squad supervised the mailing operation.

Rod Montgomery, a spokesman for PFARS, explained that the Squad would require over $50,000 in contributions in order to maintain the effectiveness of the unit. He and Mr. Boice were both hopeful that Princeton residents who had not yet responded to the drive would give serious thought to the vital service performed by the squad, and would donate generously within the next few weeks.

WINTER TERM TO START

For Helikon. Writing workshops for all ages are planned for Helikon's winter term which begins the week of January 24. The 11-week term offers children and adults the chance to write and share weekly in small groups that encourage writing for the fun of it. Poetry, newswriting, cartooning and even science fiction courses are planned.

The children's program includes two new courses in addition to poetry and newswriting workshops. David Mackey will give a "Comic and Cartoon Workshop" for ages 9 and up, and Anne Reeves will teach a course called "Time Tunnel, 1977," for grades 3-5 in which students will create books of real and imagined stories of the past and future based on legends, facts and fantasy.

Adult classes include two sections of Joyce Greenberg's "Women's Writing Workshop," Tod Tulloss' "Open Writing Workshop" on Monday evenings and a teachers' writing workshop.

For more information and registration blanks, write Helikon, 36 Pine Street, or call Mimi Schwartz, 924-5782. Application blanks are also available in the December issue of "Helikon Corner," now at the Public Library, Hulit Shoes, Toy Carousel and Zinders.

DONATIONS WELCOME

To Louise Maas Nursing Scholarship. A permanently-funded nursing scholarship established by the Business and Professional Women's Club in the memory of Louise Maas, a longtime member and owner of Louise Maas Fine Candies on Palmer Square, has reached its minimum target amount of $5,000. The scholarship will be awarded annually and will be supported by donations and the interest earned on the permanent fund.

Miss Maas died in December, 1972, having spent many years working in the fields of religious education and missions in areas such as Trenton, Appalachia and Wisconsin. After five years doing volunteer social and secretarial work in New York City hospitals, she came to Princeton and opened a small candy store. She was an unpublicized benefactor to many in the Princeton community and an ardent advocate for the award of scholarships to nurses.

Donations to the permanent fund are tax deductible and may be made by sending a check payable to the BPW-Louise Maas Nursing Scholarship Fund to Mrs. Austin R. Macauley, 188 North Harrison Street. All donations will be acknowledged, and, in the case of memorial donations, acknowledgements will be sent to the designated recipient.

Down-to-Earth Notes

Another Chapter in "The Saga of the Sewer." I koow the holidays have been long and wearing; the nights are cold; RICH MAN, POOR MAN will be on TV; and if you do want to venture out, Emlyn Williams will be at McCarter and – mirabile dictu – there will be two decent movies in Princeton! Nevertheless, I strongly urge Borough residents (and other interested people) to overcome all those obstacles, go to Borough Hall on Tuesday at 8 p.m. and lend an ear or possibly a voice. I know the whole sewer issue is still a confusing morass for most of us; and I can't promise that it will become instantly clear at that meeting, though it should become clearer. But the important thing is for your elected officials to know that you care, that you want to learn more and that you want to know why they think and-or act as they do. This is particularly true when: 1) an issue is especially complicated and 2) it will affect YOUR pocketbook, YOUR water supply, YOUR recreational facilities, and the future size, character and appearance of YOUR town and YOUR region.

Representative Millicent Fenwick, in a letter to Philip Minis, Chairman of the Township Environmental Commission, wrote re the sewer alternatives: "I think it is important for the people in the communities to decide which plan is best." In line with that statement the Borough Environmental Commission plays to present at the January 11 meeting a resolution requesting the Borough Council to reconsider and-or rescind its recent vote for Plan A (more later), and to invite a full and open discussion of the alternatives. The Commission's action reflects the view of many citizens who question the how, why and when of the Council's vote, since only three current members attended an October informational meeting for Borough Council and Township Committee.

With one member absent and two abstaining, the Borough Council voted 3 to 0 in favor of Plan A. One voter and one abstainer are brand new to Council and, understandably, unfamiliar with the implications and ramifications of this complicated subject. The other abstainer apparently felt herself in the position of knowing enough to know that she didn't yet know enough and requested, unsuccessfully, that the vote be tabled to allow further study of the alternatives.

Synopsis of the Story Line. At risk of being repetitive, I must say again that the sewer situation is hard to understand, harder to summarize. I am grateful to the October 1976 newsletter of the Middlesex Somerset Mercer Regional Study Council, identified in its letterhead as "an independent non-profit regional planning and research organization whose members are dedicated to improving the future of our central New Jersey area", for doing the latter job for me. I quote:

"The Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, representing Princeton Borough and Township, Pennington and Hopewell Borough, Hopewell Township, West Windsor and South Brunswick, has persistently moved toward construction of 20 miles of interceptor sewers connecting Pennington and Hopewell with the new Princeton plant now under construction. Most of the land in this area is undeveloped. Environmental groups, led by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association, have long opposed this 'single plant' project, termed Plan 'A.' They argue it would dry up Stony and Bedens Brooks for a significant part of each year. It would also adversely affect the groundwater levels in an area largely dependent on wells, and would generate unwanted growth in rural parts of Hopewell and Princeton creating the need for added municipal services and higher taxes.

"A 'multiple plant' alternative to the single plant Plan 'A' proposes two moderate sized plants serving Pennington and Hopewell Boroughs with smaller plants serving corporate facilities and developments acattered throngh the area. MSM, concerned that the multiple plant had not been studied adequately by the Authority, joined General William Whipple...Adelle Mitchell...and Pennington Councilman Thomas O'Neill to develop a 'feasible' multiple plant system – Plan 'X'.

"In deciding to work for equal consideration of Plan 'X', MSM took into account several important factors. First, there is significant municipal and public opposition to Plan 'A' – and virtually none (except from the Authority) to Plan 'X'. Second, Federal and State policies are turning against the financing of large interceptors through undeveloped land, where there are less expensive alternatives. Finally, close scrutiny of the engineering cost comparison of the alternatives suggested that the costs estimated for Plan 'A' were understated, while those of a multiple plant system were overstated – with the result that the two alternatives are probably about equal in cost, even in that share that would be borne locally."

Cast of Characters. Last but not least in our saga come the people who play the leading roles, i.e., those who are chiefly identified with one plan or the other. In this story there are no villains and no heroes, only concerned citizens, each of them has his or her reasons for taking a stand. However, when you hear them speak at the January 11 meeting, or read their statements later, it may help you to evaluate their positions if you know who they are and where—in terms of background—they come from.

FOR PLAN A

Robert Cawley - Mayor, Princeton Borough; Assistant Director in the Engineering & Research Dept., Western Electric, Corp., Carter Road, Hopewell.

Thomas Cawley - (no relation to Robert); Princeton Borough representative to the Sewer Authority; vice-President of the Elizabethtown Water Co.; Princeton Township resident.

Ezra Bixby - Chairman of the Sewer Authority; Pennington Borough Council; vice-President of Goodall Rubber Co., Trenton.

Tristam Johnson - Member of Hornblower & Weeks Hemphill Noyes, investment firm which provides financial information to the Authority and sold its first bond issue last year; Princeton Borough resident.

AGAINST PLAN A

Adelle Mitchell - Director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association; Pennington Borough resident.

William Whipple - retired U.S. Army Corps of Engineers; present Director of the Rutgers University Water Resources Research Institute; Princeton Township resident.

William Starr - Princeton Township representative to the Sewer Authority; retired lawyer; civil engineer, for past 40 years concerned primarily with construction contract administration, cost estimates and preparation and administration of consultant agreements; Princeton Township resident.

Your Part In the Proceedings. Go on Tuesday, listen, ask questions. Then let your local officials, plus David Bardin, Commissioner, N.J. Department of Environmental Protection, Trenton, and Gerald Hanssler, Regional Administrator Region II, Environmental Protection Agency, 26 Federal Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10007, know your decision. Although EPA is the ultimate decider, intelligent input from "the people in the communities" will not go to waste while a lack of it may—forgive me!—create unnecessary and unwanted waste.

ART In Princeton

MANY CLASSES LISTED

For PAA Winter Term. Classes tailored to fit a wide ability and interest range for children and adults are included in the winter session of the Princeton Art Association. The eight-week session, offering 20 classes, will start Monday and continue through March 6 at the PAA on Rosedale Road.

For young people, Eva Kaplan, whose students' work has been exhibited in the New Jersey State Museum, will again teach "Adventures in Creativity" on Monday afternoons from 4-5:30. Laurence Greenberg, who also teaches art in the New York City School system, will work with young people 10 through 14 in "Drawing and Painting." This class will meet Saturday mornings from 10 till 12 noon.

This semester a group will work Monday mornings, with a model, with no instruction. On the final week of the class, Hughie Lee-Smith, well-known artist, will give a critique.

Monday afternoons will be studio time for work in any media, with a small fee for use of the studio. In the evening, from 7:30-10:30 Mondays, Mr. Smith will instruct a class in "Figure Painting"; students who wish to work on portraits may do so.

Edith Teitelbaum, whose work is included in many important collections, including the Hirshhorn, will teach a class in "Watercolor" Tuesday mornings starting at 9:30. Also meeting on Tuesday morning will be a class in calligraphy for students with some previous experience in this art form. This class is taught by Leona Kaufman.

Slides, demonstrations and critiques are included in the "Drawing" class taught by Elizabeth Ruggles Tuesdays from 5-7 p.m. The only class to meet outside the PAA will be "Collographic Printmaking" taught by Elizabeth Monath at the printmaker's studio from 7-9 Tuesday evenings.

Elizabeth Ruggles will teach a basic course in oils and acrylics; techniques will be demonstrated and critiques offered in this Wednesday morning class. Sue Howard who was chairman of the art department at Stuart Country Day School for six years, will teach a new course in stone and wood sculpture on Wednesdays at 1. In the early evening, from 5 to 7, Elizabeth Monath will involve beginners in painting in various media.

Wednesday evenings, Frances Kuehn, who has recently had a solo show at the New Jersey State Museum, will teach a step-by-step approach to the watercolor medium starting at 7:30. Jeanne Pasley will be back to instruct a basic course in sculpture on Thursday mornings, while Ms. Ruggles will teach a second course in oils and acrylics on Thursday afternoons.

Ben Joseph, who has also exhibited at the State Museum, will teach a class in life drawing on Thursday evenings. Nationally-known art judge Frederic Scudder will conduct a class in oils and acrylic painting for experienced students, where development of individual techniques and style will be stressed. This class meets on Friday mornings.

Bunny Neuman will give a class in painting for senior adults on Friday afternoons. Individual instruction will allow personal exploration in acrylics and oils.

Completing the roster will be a Sunday morning session where there will be a life model and no instructor. A graphic workshop is open to experienced printers by prearrangement.

A class brochure is available upon request from the PAA. Early registration is advised, as many classes fill up quickly. Membership in the PAA is necessary to attend classes and may be obtained at the time of registration.

Registration is possible by phone, mail or in person. To register or for further information, call the PAA Studio at (609) 921-9173.

OBITUARIES

Professor John B. Whittoo, an authority on internatioonat relations aod propaganda anatysis, died January 2 in the Medical Center. He was a member of Princeton University's politics departtment from 1927 untit his retirement in 1960.

Boro in Oakland, Calif., in 1892, Prof Whitton studied at the University of California, receiving his A.B. in 1916, and his J.D. in 1920. After three years of practicing law in SanFrancisco, he elected to pursue his interest in international law, studying and teaching in Europe until he joined the Princeton faculty in 1927. He never returned to the legal profession.

Prof. Whitton was granted leaves of absence from Princeton to teach and lecture abroad, and became almost as well-known in Europe as he was here. In the mid-1930s, he served as director of the Geneva (Switzerland) Research Center; he returned to that city in subsequent years to lecture at the Institute of International Relations and at the Graduate Institute of International Studies. He was also a lecturer at the Institut des Hautes Etudes Internationales, Paris, and at the Academy of International Law, The Hague.

Prof. Whitton worked with the late Edward R. Murrow in broadcasting a weekly series of messages to France in the French language during 1935-36. In recognition for this and other services he was made a Knight in the French Legion of Honor.

In association with the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs in 1939, Prof. Whitton founded the Princeton Listening Center, a pioneering attempt to record and analyze European propaganda beamed at the United States by short-wave radio on the eve of World War II. From the center grew much of the monitoring system used by the U.S. during the war to test the content and significance of enemy broadcasts aimed at American radio audiences.

A rugby player since his high school days in California. Professor Whitton was active in the organization of Princeton University's informal rugby club in the late 1920s, serving as faculty adviser and volunteer coach for many years. He remained a strong supporter of the rugby club throughout his life. In 1975 the club established the "Doc Whitton Cup," awarded annually to the winner of the Undergraduate-Alumni Reunions Rugby Game.

Prof. Whitton had served as president of LeCercle Francais, the Nassau Club, and Prospect Association.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lila Galitzine, Princeton; a brother, Albert K., Kerkeley, Calif.; his daughter, Mrs. John S. Baker, Bakersfield, Calif.; and three granddaughters, in California. A memorial service was scheduled to be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 5, in the Princeton University Chapel, with Dean Ernest Gordon officiating. Contributions may be sent to the Medical Center at Princeton Building Fund or to Friends of Princeton Rugby, Princeton University.

Alfred E. Anderson, 85, of Wharton, formerly of Kingston Terrace Apartments, died January 2 in the Masonic Home, Burlington. He was a retired self-employed mason and a member of Acacia Lodge No. 20 A&FM of Dover.

Husband of the late Ellen H. Anderson, he is survived by a daughter, Edwina Tarabell of Princeton; a slster, Mrs. Williatn Tetford of Southbridge, Mass., four grandchildren and two great-grand children.

The Masonic service will be held Thursday at 10 followed by a funeral service at 11 at the Masonic Home, Jacksonville Road, Burlington. Buriat will be in Restland Memoriat Park, East Hanover. Contributions may be made to the Masonic Home for the Aged, Burlington.

For many years one of Trenton's most active civic leaders, Mr. Wooldridge was in the forefront of Trenton's uban renewal effort during the administration of former Mayor Donal J. Connolly. He was one of the organizers of the Greater Trenton Council and served as its secretary and treasurer from 1955 to 1961.

Mr. Wooldridge was twice president of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce and was the chairman of the city's first planning board. He was largely instrumental in the construction of the state office complex in Trenton.

Born in Pittsburgh, he lived in Trenton after his graduation from Princeton University in 1927. He was associated with the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and the Robertson Manufacturing Company in Morrisville and then became an independent insurance broker with offices on Bank Street. He subsequently became president of Manning's Moving and Storage Company in Trenton and also owned the G & W Warehouse in Neptune.

Mr. Wooldridge moved to Princeton in 1945 and in 1967 transferred his insurance business to his home. In later years, he was associated with the Walter B. Howe Agency, becoming semi-retired in 1973. He was a past president of the Trenton Rotary Club and later belonged to the Princeton Rotary Club.

He formerly served as a director of DeLaval Turbine Inc., the Trenton Saving Fund Society, the Trenton Council on Human Relations and the American Red Cross. He was active in fund-raising efforts in behalf of Rider College and also was general chairman of a Princeton YM-YWCA building committee. He served for a time on the Planning Board here and was a member of the Trenton Club, the Nassau Club and the Springdale Golf Club.

Mr. Crawford was also a real estate broker with the Belle Mead Agency and a member of the Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy R. Crawford; two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Filline of Arlington, Texas, and Mrs. Barbara Bennett of Atlantic Highlands; a brother, Fred Crawford of Skillman; two sisters, Mrs. J.S. Wagner of Boca Raton, Fla., and Miss M. Louise Crawford of Delray Beach, Fla., and four grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held Sunday at 2 in the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill, the Rev. Frank J. Bahr, pastor, officiating. Contributions may be made to the Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company, the Kendall Park Ambulance Squad, or Little Hill Foundation, Blairstown.

News Of The CHURCHES

KING SERVICE SUNDAY

At University Chapel. The annual Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Service will be held in the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday at 11. The Rev. Tom Skinner, black evangelist of Tom Skinner Associates, East Orange, will be the guest preacher.

Tom Skinner Associates was founded in 1964 to bring "new life and vitalization into the concept of black oriented evangelism through crusades, radio and television, personal evangelism, and literature." Mr. Skinner is the author of "Black and Free," an autobiography of his search for identity in Harlem. An ordained minister of the United Missionary Baptist Association of Greater New York, he is making his third visit to the University Chapel pulpit. Immediately following the service, a coffee hour will be held in Murray-Dodge Hall and the congregation will have an opportunity to meet Mr. Skinner.

BULLETIN NOTES

Beginning this Sunday, All Saints' Episcopal Church, Terhune Road, will start the second of its two Sunday morning services 15 minutes later than usual to allow more time for Church School classes. The two morning services will take place at 9 and at 11:15.

Angel Lodovica, presiding minister of the Princeton Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, was among several area residents attending a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Buckingham, Pa. last Sunday. Donald Cecil, district minister of the religious groups, warned the group that the problems of preventing food shortages, safeguarding the environment, etiminating disease and overcoming the barriers that divide mankind require solutions beyond what men offer.

Dr. John R. Bodo, minister of the First Presbyterian (now Nassau) Church from 1951-59, gave his farewell sermon, "Musings on an Old Pulpit," Sunday at Old First Presbyterian Church in San Francisco, Calif., where he has been pastor for the past seven and one-half years.

Dr. Bodo will remain in San Francisco pursuing a free-lance ministry of preaching, lecturing and writing. After leaving First Church here, be became chairman of the department of of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary. His wife, the former Mary Nordland, is founder and director of Pacific Primary School in San Francisco.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

King's Grant is pleased to offer over 9 acres of wooded land, high and dry overlooking a beautiful residential area. This is an investment opportunity almost unique in Princeton's Township. The owner is asking $75,000

ACREAGE - HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP

70 acres of prime, heavily wooded land with fantastic frontage on Elm Ridge Road and Stony Brook. $6,700 per acre.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Here is two acres plus a superbly wooded plot in one of the most beautiful corners of the Township. The owner is asking $35,000.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Contemplating a contemporary house?
We have a magnificent wooded two acres ideal for naturalization around a dramatic house design.

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP

Just reaching completion in the superb Elm Ridge Park section, a two-story traditional house of brick and cedar shakes. The central entrance foyer opens to spacious living and dining rooms, and kitchen with informal dining area. Beyond is a large family room with fireplace and a private study or office. There are five family bedrooms, one is huge, a veritable childrens dormitory. This house is ideal for the growing, active family, it is priced at $149,500

Industrial Space for rent in nearby Pennington, approximately 34,000 square feet will be immediately available. Call King's Grant.

King's Grant is particularly pleased to present one of Princeton's most distinguished properties; — a superb Georgian house on 43 acres of lawns, gardens and meadows in Princeton's handsomest area northwest of town.

Entering this great and gracious house, guests are greeted in the handsomely panelled entrance halt with black and white marble floor. The exquisite architectural detail is but an introduction to that found throughout the house, much of it imported from England. To the left is the morning room with a delicate marble mantel, deep wood cornice, pedimented door and a bow window looking out to the garden. The wide, graceful staircase with polished mahogany handrail ascends to the six family bedrooms and sitting room above.

The living room is a spacious 28' x 22' with magnificent fireplace and over-mantel, and doors opening to a terrace and to the greenhouse. The panelled dining room, also unusually large, with 18th century English mantel and finely carved pedimented doors can accommodate at least twenty at dinner. The far end of the dining room, with a sweeping vista of fields and hills through the lunetted French windows, provides space for a breakfast table in the bay.

The knotty pine panelled library with lighted cove ceiling, is a handsome book-lined retreat and in conjunction with the living room, adds further to the spaciousness of the house for entertaining.

The long covered terrace opens to the south lawn from the morning room and the living room. The magnificent ironwork is handsomely detailed in a intertwined oak leaf motif. Further along the south facade of the house is the fine large greenhouse with its own open terrace more informal in character and adjoining the cutting garden. Just outside the dining room is another terrace with a green garden, perhaps for afternoon tea, offering complete privacy yet with views across serene woods and greens where songbirds, pheasant and deer are found quietly grazing. In the English tradition of the private park there are brick and hedge enclosed gardens, a field planted in American holly, specimen shade trees, a stand of mature evergreens and a small meandering brook. In every season of the year these acres are a delight to the nature lover. Country living at its finest, yet exactly one mile from Nassau Street and the campus of Princeton University.

HENDERSON FARMS, LAND & LOTS

Do you honestly know of a better investment?

Here are just a few of the many land listings available to you through our offices in Princeton, Hopewell and Belle Mead. Some are beautiful scenic building lots with woods and streams; others are major farm properties with active potential for successful investment for immediate & future development. Please call us and lets talk about them.

HIDDEN VALLEY FARM. Magnificent stone colonial, completely renovated with latest conveniences and authentic beauty. Sixty-two acres of fields and pasture, one acre pond, many outbuildings, including 7-room tenant farm house. Huge barns and equipment sheds. Cattle facilities. Zoned agricultural and industrial with enormous dollar potential. Can you believe only $275,000?

Two beautiful bui'ding lots in The Meadows off Elm Ridge Road on a quiet cul de sac. All underground utilities, dry sewer and water lines. Septic systems approved. For sale to builders or for you to have your own custom home created. $28,000

Overlooking the hills of Harbourton, 4 beautiful building lots. Ready to go, percolation supplied. $29,500

134 acres overlooking the Borough of Hopewell. Absolutely breathtaking view. Barn and solid farmhouse included. 40 percent zoned 20,000 sq. ft. lots, remainder zoned 2¼ acre lots. Contiguous to border of Borough. Great potential. $3,500 per acre

31.9 acres of fields and woods. Zoned R-250 in Hopewell Township. Enough frontage for 2 lots now. More with a cul-de-sac. Small hunters cabin on the property. This is a beautiful piece of land at only ($2,500 per acre) $79,500

94 acres in Harbourton. Large pond and some open low land but most is wooded and hilly with outstanding views. Zoned R-250, Hopewell Township. Good investment. $2,500 per acre

In Montgomery Township on Spring Hill Road you can see 70 acres of hills and valleys with fields and woods. And you can own it for $3,300 per acre

Nearly 6 acres on Bayberry Road in Hopewell Township. Beautiful country setting. Convenient to everything. Great area. A must see if you're really interested in building your own home.

East Amwell Township. Partially wooded. Your own bubbling stream on nearly five acres of desirable privacy. A super-building lot. $22,500

350 ACRES OF PRIME LAND IN SOMERSET COUNTY! OVER A HALF MILE OF FRONTAGE. BEAUTIFUL ROLLING LAND WITH HILLS, BROOKS, WOODS AND APPROXIMATELY 150 ACRES OF TILLABLE LAND! PROBABLY ONE OF OUR BEST LONG-TERM INVESTMENTS. LESS THAN $2,000 PER ACRE.

WITHOUT A DOUBT, OUR VERY BEST LAND BUY! 103 ACRES OF BEAUTIFUL WOODS, STREAMS, AND OPEN LAND. CURRENTLY UNDER FARM ASSESSMENT WITH 50 ACRES OF TIMOTHY. 300' OF FRONTAGE ON THE NESHANIC RIVER. JUST $1,500 PER ACRE.

78 plus acres on Featherbed Lane, Hopewell Township with 1,400 foot frontage. Open fields and woods plus a brick Colonial house, with apartment. Zoned R-250. Priced right at $2,500 per acre. The house and 5 acres may be bought with the land, but for an additional price.

A SUPER WOODED BUILDING LOT. READY TO GO. THREE QUARTERS OF AN ACRE IN WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP. JUST $20,000!

FIFTEEN ACRES IN LAWRENCE! In prime Province Line area, three-acre minimum. Good percolation. Call Nancy Lea for all the particulars.

AN EXCEPTIONAL PROPERTY WITH ½ MILE FRONTAGE ON STONY BROOK. Approximately 11.5 acres of woods. Lovely area to walk, watch birds, swim, fish. On Mercer Road in Princeton Township.

ATTENTION BUILDERS: 23.2 acres of land available in a beautiful wooded area of Princeton Township. Adjacent to Green Acres. Only $6,200 per acre!

AT THE KINGSTON END OF PRINCETON TOWNSHIP, on Roper Road by Harry's Brook...1.3 acres set well back from the road. Secluded with many major trees. Please call David Reeves for price and other details, including sewer status!

NOT FAR FROM LAMBERTVILLE, in West Amwell, 34 acres of woods, pasture...all gorgeous. There is a marvelous brook and pond site, too. Asking $69,900

HARLAN FARMHOUSE on 83 ACRES. Here's a 200-year old colonial farmhouse with great privacy, and beautiful land. Charmingly restored, the house has every modern convenience. It is complemented by a stream and large pond and many out-buildings...some in need of repair. Great for current living and fabulous for future potential. $225,000

PRITCHARD FARM I. Unusual fine offering of 45 plus acres, rolling fields, bubbling streams. The restored early American farm house retains character and charm yet has all modern conveniences. Tenant house for income or help. Barns and outbuildings contain 40 box stalls and enormous hay and grain storage facilities. Beautiful investment and marvelous way of life for the horseman!

We are the experts in this area on land and farms and our sales personnel are always available to discuss the listing or purchase of small building lots or large investment and development parcels. Call Henderson, please.

Not to mention a flagstone terrace for total enjoyment of this unique property. $89,500

PLEASE DON'T SCOFF WHEN WE SAY THIS IS A PERFECT LISTING! It really has everything a young family could ever dream of owning...basically, of course, a four-bedroom, 2½ bath super colonial by Princeton's renowned Lew Kraft, a man who took pride in his building and stands behind his work! Panelled family room with fireplace, full basement, air conditioning, a light, airy kitchen that's fun to cook in! All on a treed lot within walking distance to the New York bus, on a cul-de-sac for utter safety and at the entrance to an area estate, yet with plenty of children nearby for playmates! Asking $81,900

COME SEE THIS TO BELIEVE! A very creative couple started with a basic colonial in a good neighborhood and added - at considerable expense - a Hillier-designed wing to insure their total comfort. The master bedroom suite alone includes a sitting room, two dressing rooms, full bath and office! Of course, there's also a family room with fireplace, spacious living room, formal dining room, family kitchen, three other bedrooms and two and a half baths...all dramatically decorated and in perfect condition. Outside features a superb pool completely fenced and landscaped. Air conditioning, full basement and two-car garage, mais oui! It's expensive, but for the right person, worth every penny!

HAPPINESS IN HOPEWELL! An outstanding and gracious center hall Colonial built 25 years ago, this beauty has a stateliness that can't be matched today. It features a slate roof, plaster walls and a spaciousness of a bygone era and is currently being restored to its former glory by one of the area's foremost craftsman. It has three huge bedrooms plus a study, 2½ baths, huge family room and an all new kitchen. 2 fireplaces and is on 2 beautiful wooded acres! It is located in the best area of Hopewell Township and a hop, skip and jump from Princeton. You will not want to miss this attractive offering $159,000.

WANTED! A LARGE FUN-LOVING FAMILY TO FILL A SIX BEDROOM, THREE BATH SPACIOUS COLONIAL CAPE ON 1½ BEAUTIFUL WOODED ACRES. Custom built by one of the area's outstanding craftsmen for his own family. Featuring a recently remodeled eat-in kitchen with built in barbeque, living room with fireplace, family room with fireplace, recreation room and formal dining room. Of course, other amenities...a fire alarm system, 3-zone heating and a roomy 2-car garage. Superior schools and only 8 minutes from Nassau Street! All combine to make this house an outstanding buy $112,000

EXTRAORDINARY RANCH IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP nestled in the trees on a magnificent lot close to the New York bus and all the conveniences the town has to offer. Sturdily built with plaster walls, cedar lined closets, a flexible floor plan consisting of living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms, hall bath, utility laundry room and a large jalousied side porch easily converted to a family room, fully air conditioned for total comfort. $72,500

A BUILDER'S DREAM! One of the area's most respected craftsmen reluctantly offers his dream house for sale... a New England farm colonial with beautiful brick and aluminum exterior, all maintenance free. A large redwood deck and flagstone porch looks out on deep woods across the back. Inside finds six fireplaces - of magnificent stone in the family room, of old brick in the dining room, den and recreation room and two formal mantels in the large living room and master bedroom. Four lovely bedrooms, 3½ baths and a separate apartment over the garage! The exciting master bedroom includes a separate solarium and a beautifully appointed 10x10 bath/dressing room with mirrored walls. Many other extras! All included with loving care, exquisite use of materials and fastidious attention to detail. Please let us show you this. $168,000

Mayor Hall Reviews Achievements for Past Year in Township, Believes Consolidation Is in Municipality's Long-Range Future

(Following is the text of the New Year's Day Address delivered by Mrs. Josie Hall, Mayor of the Township of Princeton.)

As your new Mayor, it is my privilege to offer the traditional report on the activities of the Township Committee in 1976, and to preview what we hope to accomplish in 1977.

However, before I begin, I would like to thank my fellow Committee members for their diligent and productive work last year and for now giving me the opportunity to serve them. It is also time to express the community's gratitude to our two retiring colleagues.

Jay Bleiman is a hard act to follow. In his six years on the Committee, four as Mayor, his concern, dedication and leadership qualities have served Princeton well.

Abbot Moffat retired in early November, but I would like to again thank him for his innovative and excellent contributions -- especially in the areas of finance and bicycle paths. Jay's and Abbot's achievements will long be a part of Township history.

Two Join Committee. We welcome two new members today. Hugo Hoogenboom, our newest Committee member, is a lawyer with considerable talents in the fields of long-range planning and finance. David Blair, who has been with us for two months, has been active in environmental matters and will bring valuable expertise in engineering. It will be a joy to serve with such qualified people.

I know I speak for both the Committee and the community in expressing appreciation and gratitude to our entire municipal staff. I would like to especially thank Joe Nini for being indispensable and unflappable during the difficult times when we were a four-person Committee and Gordon Griffin for leading us through what must have been a record number of complicated ordinances. We welcomed two new staff members in 1976: Jim Pascale, Assistant Administrator, and Baghwan Dass, Assistant Engineer. The best of luck to them both.

1976 saw the retirement of our Building Inspector for twenty years. Joe Shinn loved and was part of this town. We wish him many happy relaxed years ahead. We are glad that Jack Meyers is now acting in the position.

The volunteer citizens' advisory boards and committees have long been an integral and invaluable facet of Township government. Our most grateful thanks for the yoeman work they are doing. This Committee really could not function without their hard work and expert advice.

Bicentennial Notes. It seems appropriate to start the year's review with a special note of appreciation for the work of just such a committee. In celebrating our 200th year, the Bicentennial Commission was involved in renovation of the Clarke House, rehabilitation of the Dinky station and it stimulated or sponsored no less than 100 different events in the community.

We will be preserved for posterity in the excellent photographic portrayal of the town, and will be able to witness The Battle of Princeton this Monday, Jaouary 3. It's an opportunity no Princetonian should miss.

In the important area of planning, the Regional Planning Board is nearing completion of the Housing Master Plan, which should emerge for consideration by the Committee and the public in 1977. We have been, and will continue to be, represented at the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission as they deliberate the future of this area. That momentous document, the new Municipal Land Use Law, will be ready for passage in January, 1977.

In the closely related field of housing, 1976 saw Princeton Community Village filled and flourishing. A Community Development Block Grant application for a community room at PCV was turned down by HUD, but in 1977 we hope to acquire a tract of much needed nearby open space. In 1976 we implemented the new State-mandated Uniform Construction Code, and in '77 can look forward to the introduction of an ordinance on historic landmarks.

I-95 in the News. Committee saw increased activity in environmental matters in 1976, and this could accelerate in 1977. Regional environmental concerns cen-

Mayor Cawley Compares Contemporary Problems To Those Facing Colonies Two Centuries Ago

(Following is the text of the New Year's Day Address delivered by Robert W. Cawley, Mayor of the Borough of Princeton.)

The Bicentennial year 1976 has closed...although the reenactment of the Battle of Princeton is still to come. Looking at our Bicentennial Ceremonies and writings, it seems to me thal too little connection has been made between 1776 and 1976.

We have tended to view 1776 in romantic terms and viewed 1976 in realistic, sometimes disillusioned terms. In 1776, the good guys beat the bad guys; Washington and his troops were models of high mindedness and courage. In 1976 often it appeared that those who won turned out later to be the bad guys. We often did not even agree on who were the good guys. In 1976 confusion reigned and few appeared to display courage.

In reality, 1776 and 1976 had much in common. Both were times of chacge. Revolution is merely a major change in human affairs and its inevitable conflict need not be physical as it was in 1776. Todays "revolulionary" issues -- human rights and taxation -- hark back to 1776.

Two-hundred years ago, there was legislative ineptitude in the Continental Congress; many in the Army had selfish motives and the desertion rate was very high. In our New Jersey, with its heavy concentration of Loyalists, it was hard to tell who were the good guys and who were the bad guys. Confusion reigned disillusionment was rampant.

Tensions Exist. Human rights and taxation were the issues in 1776. If one translated taxation into a broader concept of responsibility to society, the basic tensions in society emerge. How much liberty will the individual give up for the common good and how should care for individuals and responsibilities to society be shared?

These are the age-old issues in the family, the tribe, the village, the institutions and society at large.

In 1976, the New Jersey State "revolution" in school finance and income taxation clearly represents an attempt to equalize the educational care throughout the Stale, which is a human rights point. A change in how school costs and other state costs are shared was effected in the income tax. As a backdrop to this state tax change, is a nationwide tax protest. It is not a Boston Teaparty, but it is behind the "Caps" being imposed on government spending.

Conflict has appeared locally in the review of school budgets by Towoship and Borough governing bodies as the governing bodies have sought to effect a change in the level of school spending. The size of that desired reduction may not seem very large but the conflict has been real.

A Nation of Change. Thus in 1976 as in 1776, the basic issues of human rights and human responsibility lhrough government were paramount. We are still a nation of change. Change creates conflict, tension and disillusionment. For some the change is too little or improperly located; for others, it is too much.

The key to healthy progress is to control the rate of change so that conflict does not get oul of hand. Controlling conflict to manageable proportions also requires understanding on the part of the people involved and a desire to keep communications open.

I look forward to another 200 years of change and resulting conflict. If our society does not change it will surely die.

1976 was again a year of excellent effort by the Borough employees and appointed officials. I would like to thank Joe Moore for six years of service. We will all miss his sensitive management of our police department and his good advice. Thanks also to Jan Schneier and Marv Trotman who served on Council during this year.

The retirement of Laurence Patterson is a major loss to us.

Pat's stewardship of tax collection and of financial management was excellent. We wish him well.

With such good people involved in governing Princeton Borough, we can look forward with confidence to another 200 years.

News Of The THEATRES

P.J. & B. tS.....BACK

With "Night Music." An elegant turn-of-the-century house party, the music and lyrics of Stephen Sondheim, the directorial hand of Milton Lyon -- "A Little Night Music," for P.J. & B's winter production. It will open Thursday, January 20 at 7:30 p.m., and will be given three times more: Friday, January 21 at 8:30, and Saturday, January 22 at 2:39 and 8:30 p.m.

It was Milton Lyon who originated P.J. & B. musicals back in 1961, realizing that local amateur, semi-professional and professional talent was good enough to put on a professional show. The initials stand for "Princeton Junction and Back," one of the dinky's many names, and a symbol of the commuters and various other locals who constitute the casts of these annual musical presentations.

This year, Mr. Lyon has Ann Bishop, Harry Clark, Mary Combs, Diana Crane, Liz Fillo, Karl Light, Steve McGee, George Oliva, Anne Sheldon, Julia Sly, Sarah Sword, Cindy Sutter and Reid White in his cast.

In addition, there's an ensemble of 15 singers and dancers. Joan Morton Lucas is choreographer, Charles Stone II is lights and scenery, Patsy Chappell, Sandra Jefferson and Marnie Powers are stage managers.

"A Little Night Music" was suggested by Ingmar Bergman's film, "Smiles of a Summer Night," and was produced on Broadway with Hermione Gingold and Len Cariou in the leading roles.

SHAKESPEARE....

"Dream." "A modern story, dealing with love, romance, fantasy and magic—all contemporary concerns." That's the way the George Street Playhouse will treat Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which will run at the New Brunswick theatre from January 21 to February 12 under the direction of Eric Krebs.

Mr. Krebs says he will use "various directorial devices" to make the play more accessible to audiences, especially to children. The inter-racial cast will appear in contemporary costume and will use what Mr. Krebs calls "slightly updated language."

"Oh! Coward" the cabaret

Ready to Audition?

"Bus Stop" hasn't even opened yet, but Community Players are already planning "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," scheduled for early and mid-March production.

Auditions will be held Monday and Tuesday, January 17 and 18, at 8 p.m. in the Players' theatre, 171 Broadmead. All ages are invited to try out, and all characters will be cast at auditions.

There is a mother in her 40s and her daughters--an epileptic 17-year-old and a bright, shy girl in her early teens. In addition, there is Nanny, ever present, but with no lines to say. (Even Nanny will be cast at the auditions.) The director will be Leo Cohen.

revue, will have its final performances this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

'SPECIALLY FOR KIDS

Paper Bag Players Saturday. The Paper Bag Players will premiere their latest production, "Grandpa," on Saturday, at 11 and 2 as part of McCarter Theatre's "'Specially for Kids" series.

"Grandpa" is the usual collage of elements which make up a Paper Bag Players production – song, stories, skits, mime, poetry and dance. Some of the numbers in the show have such titles as "Getting Older," "Stolen Sneakers," "Bubble Gum," "It's Just Not Fair," "Worrying" and "A Great Big Kiss."

The Paper Bag Players, regular visitors to McCarter, have performed for close to a million children since they began in 1958. The company has toured 19 states, and has made four London appearances. Tickets for both performances are still available.

TRIPLE HEADER BOOKED

Three Films at McCarter. McCarter Theatre will offer five hours of cinematic merriment when it presents its annual "Comedy Film Marathon" on Friday and Saturday.

Three of the most popular comedy films of the past decade will be presented each evening: "Monty Python and the Holy Grail" at 7, "Harold & Maude" at 8:30, and "King of Hearts" at 10:15. Although all seats are unreserved, tickets are available in advance from the box office.

EMLYN WILLIAMS HERE

As Dylan Thomas. Emlyn Williams will bring his one-man show, "Dylan Thomas Growing Up" to Princeton for a single performance at McCarter Theatre on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Like Mr. Williams' solo performance as Charles Dickens, his "Dylan Thomas" has become a theatrical legend since its premiere in London in 1955. It was seen at McCarter Theatre several times in the late 1950's, and concluded a successful revival in New York only last month.

Emlyn Williams has been a major figure on the world's stage for more than 40 years in roles of actor, director, and playwright. His first major success came in 1935 as the author and star of "Night Must Fall," which later became a movie starring Rosalind Russell and Robert Montgomery. More recently, Mr. Williams has appeared on Broadway in "The Deputy" and "A Man for All Seasons," and in London in his own adaptation of "A Month in the Country," with Ingrid Bergman and Sir Michael Redgrave.

'ADELE H' WEDNESDAY

At McCarter. Francois Truffaut's "The Story of Adele H.", which the New Yorker's Pauline Kael called "the only great film from Europe I've seen since "Last Tango", is the next presentation on the Movies-at-McCarter Series on Wednesday, January 12, at 7 and 9.

"Adele H." is Truffaut's first film in two years, and he calls it the "autopsy of a passion." Based on fact, it is the one-sided love story of Victor Hugo'a younger daughter Adele, who follows

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm

If tensions are the by-products of your pursuits, and they probably are, rest is both a healer and a deterrent and can help to balance a strenuous schedule. The chief purpose of rest is to reduce tension, to recover from fatigue. The length of the rest period should be in proportion to the length and type of exertion. But it is always better to plan rest periods for yourself at regular intervals. Rest is necessary to all forms of animal life. Even plants and trees have periods in which they are dormant. Wisdom is the understanding and recognition of the need for rest.

At FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon prescriptions are our business. Catering to the medical profession for many years, we'll call for and deliver your prescriptions promptly. Cosmetics, men's toiletries and baby needs are all available at FORER'S...Phone 921-7287.

her father into his exile on the Isle of Guernsey, where she falls in love with an English officer who does not return her love.

When the officer is sent to new posts, first in Nova Scotia and then Barbados, Adele follows resolutely. Her passion for the soldier becomes a "magnificent, isolating obsession," eventually deepening into madness as she is unable to face the reality of his disinterest.

PLAYERS' SHOW READY

Opens Friday Night. "Bus Stop," the William Inge comedy, will open at the Princeton Community Players theatre at 171 Broadmead Friday at 8:30 p.m. The opening night audience is invited, as usual, to a reception following the play to meet the cast.

Directed by Norman F. Washburne, the cast includes Grace, Rosemarie Arcieri; Cherie, Judy Webber; Elma Duckworth, Myra Chanley; Will Masters, Lew Gantwerk; Dr. Gerald Lyman, Loyal Watterworth; Carl, Stephen Dubansky; Virgil Blessing, Robert Watson; Bo Decker, Brian Watkinson.

The play will be repeated Saturday and Sunday (Sunday at 7:30 p.m.) and also on January 14, 15, 16, 21 and 22. For reservations and information, call 921-6314.

ISRAELI CABARET SET

By Jewish Center. For the second year, the Jewish Center is sponsoring an Israeli Cabaret Night, to be held Saturday, January 15, at the Center, 435 Nassau Street. An evening of Israeli food, entertainment and dancing is planned.

Featured will be entertainment by Bruce Fagan and his musical group. Mr. Fagan is an interpreter of Israeli and Jewish popular and folk music. Accompanying himself on acoustic guitar, he combines the music of eastern Europe and the Middle East with light commentary.

Mr. Fagan recently returned from a visit to Israel, where he appeared as a featured singer on Israel National Radio and learned many new songs. In Philadelphia he stars in the Israeli music radio program "Song of the Sabras" on WRTI-FM each Wednesday evening.

For additional information call Herb Gurk at 924-3693.

PLAYHOUSE

Silver Streak. A comedy about a train ride and before it crashes into Union Station in Chicago in a socko ending, there is murder and mayhem aboard. Gene Wilder and Jill Clayburgh star but the film really picks up midway when Richard Pryor appears.

PRINCE

Ktng Kong. "The most exciting original motion picture of all time," says the promo. That's a little too ape but the consensus is that this remake is better than the Fay Wray original.

Kong dominates the film, of course. Trouble is, one has to wait almost an hour for him to make his appearance.

Bugsy Malone. The idea behind the film is ingenious: a musical parody of a 1930 gangster film with one distinct twist – have the entire cast from hired thug to brassy B-girls played by kids.

The novelty wears off too quickly but see it anyway. The music is excellent and the kids superb.

GARDEN

The Pink Panther Strikes Again. Peter Sellers plays bumbling Inspector Clouseau again. For Pink Panther fans a pure delight.

TOKYO QUARTET DUE

At McCarter Monday. The Tokyo Quartet will make its first appearance in the Music-at-McCarter Series on Monday at 8 when it performs works by Haydn, Bartok and Brahms.

The four members of the Quartet—Koichiro Harada and Kikuei Ikeda, violins; Kazuhide Isomura, viola; and Sadao Harada, cello—all received their training at the famous Toho Music Academy in Tokyo, and pursued their studies at the Juilliard School, where they worked with Raphael Hillyer, and Robert Mann of the Juilliard Quartet.

The Tokyo Quartet plays on priceless Amati instruments which are on permanent loan to them from the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D.C. Their McCarter program will include Haydn's Quartet in C, Op. 33 No. 3 ("The Birds"), Bartok's Quartet No. 6, and the Brahms F-minor Piano Quintet, in which they will be joined by guest artist Richard Goode, Artist-Member of the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center.

MORE FLUTE SONATAS

In Trinity-All Saints' Series. The second of two concerts presenting the complete flute sonatas of J.S. Bach will be given on Sunday at 8 p.m. at All Saints' Church, Van Dyke Road. The three artists who performed to a "standing room only" audience in the first concert a month ago will again be heard.

They are James Walker, principal flute of the Spoleto Festival Orchestra and member of The Music Project; David Agler, director of music at All Saints' Church and formerly general director of the Spoleto Festival; and Elaine Banks, first cellist of the Trenton Symphony and currently studying for a master's degree in choral conducting at Westminster Choir College.

Of the seven sonatas for flute attributed to Bach, three were heard in the first concert, including one with a cello added to the flute and harpsichord. In the remaining four sonatas to be performed on Sunday evening, Mr. Walker and Mr. Agler will be joined by Ms. Banks in two of them.

Third in the Trinity—All Saints' Series, the concert is open to the public without charge. Because of the great popularity of this performance, music lovers are urged to come early to be sure of a good seat.

PERFORMING: Princeton Music Club and Princeton Opera Association member Cheryl Chang will sing early American songs Sunday at 2 and 3 in the Trenton State Museum gallery, accompanied by a Music Club chamber ensemble.

TWO CONCERTS PLANNED

By Friends of Music. Performances by three students of Shirlee Emmons, voice teacher at Princeton University, and a piano recital by Steven Mayer, have been scheduled by the Friends of Music at Princeton as free concerts in Woolworth Center.

Performing Friday, January 14, at 8:30 will be mezzo-soprano, Julia Blockman; soprano; Cheryl Chang; and Steven Owne, bass. Miss Blockman will perform works by Brahms and Benjamin Britten's "Charm of Lullabies." Miss Chang will include Spanish songs in her program as well as works by Poulenc, and Steven Owen will sing Welsh folksongs and Moussorgsky's "Songs and Dances of Death."

All three singers have participated in workshops and productions of the Princeton Opera Association. Mr. Owen was soloist with the University Glee Club in its performance of the St. Matthew Passion last spring.

Mr. Mayer will perform works by Bach, Mozart, Beethoven and Stravinsky in his recital Sunday, January 16, at 3 p.m. in Woolworth Center. He entered the Julliard School at the age of 12 and three years later won first prize in a New York Times contest for High school pianists. Ever since he has been giving recitals and making orchestral appearances, including concerts with the American Symphony in Carnegie Holl the Little Orchestra Society at Fisher Hall and an appearance at Washington's Kennedy Center in a program of Bicentennial music.

ELECTRONIC MUSIC SET

In Two Concerts. Two free concerts of electronic music by Princeton composers will be presented by the Friends of Music in Woolworth Center on two consecutive Wednesdays, January 12 and 19. Both concerts will begin at 8:30.

The music will include compositions of both faculty and student composers and will include computer-generated pieces as well as music realized in conventional electronic music studios. The Yale, Stony Brook and Columbia-Princeton studios will be represented.

The computer-generated pieces were all realized at the facilities of the Princeton Computer Center and the Winham Sound Synthesis Laboratory. In addition, to purely synthesized compositions, there will be works which include live instruments played in ensemble with synthesized sounds. Michael Dellario will present his "Maud," which he describes as a mono-drama for voice and computer, and Frank Brickle will perform as soloist in his composition "Bete-Noire" for piano and computer.

Both concerts will last approximately one hour, and both are open to the public.

BRUBECK WITH SONS

Four In Concert Here. Jazz pianist Dave Brubeck will be joined by his longtime associate, saxophonist Paul Desmond, and three of his sons, Chris, Darius and Dan, when he makes his annual Princeton concert appearance at Alexander Hall on Saturday, January 22 at 8 under the sponsorship of McCarter Theatre.

The first jazzman to appear on the cover of Time Magazine (1954), and the first to record a jazz single which sold a million copies ("Take Five," 1963), Dave Brubeck remains a regular performer in the nation's concert halls with the second generation of Brubecks, which includes Darius on keyboards, Chris on trombone and electric bass and Danny on drums. The three boys are performing in the many fields pioneered by their father more than 20 years ago and, this season, "Two Generations of Brubeck" will appear with many major symphony orchestras and in jazz festivals, concert halls, and seminars. They perform new music of thier own composition, as well as classics from the repertoire of the Dave Brubeck Quartet.

Desmond, one of the original members of the first Dave Brubeck Quartet formed in 1951, joins the Brubecks for many of these engagements, including the Alexander Hall concert. Since the Quartet formally disbanded in 1967, Desmond has recorded two solo albums, and appeared frequently as guest artist with the new Brubeck Quartet, with "Two Generations of Brubeck," and with the Modern Jazz Quartet.

Most recently, he and Dave Brubeck have recorded an album of duets for piano and saxophone. Desmond's association with Dave Brubeck spans nearly three decades, and has been responsible in large measure for creating a worldwide concept of jazz as modern American chamber music.

Tickets for the Brubeck, Desmond and "Two Generations" concert are available from the McCarter Theatre box office: (609) 921-8700.

Mayor Hall's Address

tered on I-95 and on the Stony Brook Regional Sewer single interceptor plan. Committee urged the DOT to consider the Turnpike alternative for I-95 and appointed members to committees to oversee the Environmental Impact Study. After much in-depth study of the sewer proposals, Committee passed a resolution strongly supporting the three plant alternative.

In 1976, local environmental action was taken when Committee passed a landmark surface water drainage ordinance, completed the Riverside drainage study, ordinanced the Mountain Lakes Brook study and established a Natural Resource Inventory Task Force. In 1977 we expect to do our final brook study, pass soil erosion and sedimentation control and pesticide control ordinances, and become the testing ground for new research on soil erosion.

It's been a busy year for recreation, too. The big news is that, after many years, the Township moved ahead on the development of the north side of Community Park. By mid-1977 that mound of earth will have subsided and our lake and picnic grounds should be complete. In 1976, the Township accepted a most generous gift of land from Princeton University. Plans for the development of this Basin Park will be started in 1977.

The past year was also an excellent one for active recreation with continued heavy use of all facilities. A senior citizens' club was formed, and trips were taken. There were increased women's activities topped off by a whoppingly successful new women's softball league. Because of two more generous gifts, we will be able to light six tennis courts and hope to start a little league field this year.

Dinky Saved. Thanks to continuing diligent committee work, Princeton still has its Dinky. Other transportation activities included formation of a committee to oversee Crosstown 62 and much hard work involving the experimental take-over of the Loop Bus by Mercer Metro. At this date, the future of Mercer Metro's involvement is uncertain, but Committee seems committed to public transportation in 1977.

In the area of public safety, the Township is continuing to finance school busing on hazardous routes, a traffic light is going in near the shopping center, the speed limit was lowered on Route 206, and ordinances were passed which regulated use of motorized vehicles on Township property and at the shopping center. In response to a need for better police communications in the Township, a radio antenna tower was installed in 1976. In '77 the Township hopes to complete the system by installing UHF communications equipment for the police and also to help improve the system used by the volunteer fire companies.

Bike paths are public works, and in spite of some disappointments in our applications for Federal and State aid, progress was made. Design was completed on two of the proposed paths, curb cuts authorized, and work done with the County on the Rosedale Road path, which should be completed in 1977.

The most exciting news is that, thanks to two more generous gifts, the Township will have a Great Road bicycle path to Stuart School this year. A Bicycle Path Advisory Committee has also been formed. The big sewer news for 1976 was the completion of the infiltration and inflow study, and corrective work should start this year. The current "target date" for completion of the new sewer plant is late '77, and Committee also looks forward to State and Federal decisions on the one or the three plant system.

Storm drainage repair was completed on Locust Lane, and this year we hope to formulate solutions to the Braeburn, Terhune and Riverside drainage problems. Some road resurfacing was completed last year. This year, the engineering department will also be working on approaches to the new Mercer Road bridge and will provide some additional brush pick up.

Tax Picture Cloudy. I wish I could give an accurate prediction of our 1977 tax picture. Due to the still incomplete information on the new 5 percent Budget Caps Law, it is impossible at this time. However, I don't think the news will be all bad. The schools will be receiving State aid, citizens will be getting property tax rebates, and the very nature of "caps", along with certain mandated increases, could result in restrictions on municipal services rather than a substantial tax increase. And, added relief could be in sight if the Township receives a favorable court decision on its suit to shorten the phase-in time of T & E funding. In 1977, the Committee may again consider tax revaluation and look in to forming a ratables study committee.

In our first year under the "Sunshine Law", I think Committee found it cumbersome but bearable. Forward steps in governmental operations included formation of a Regional Health Commission, a Joint School Liaison Committee and appointment of a Joint Tax Assessor.

This year we will be considering a request to merge the two Environmental Commissions. We also look forward to starting a system of better communications through better committee reporting. This should enable both the public and ourselves to be more knowledgeable about current work being done in advisory boards and committees.

Saving the best for last, we have just received the long-awaited and excellent report of the Joint Consolidation Study Committee. It is indeed a thorough blueprint on which to build. I think we can safely predict that after the courts decide the T & E appeal, the Township will move forward along the guidelines so clearly presented to us.

De-Trim Your Tree

This is the weekend to take down your Christmas tree, if you live in the Township.

Trucks will collect discarded Christmas trees at curbside starting next Monday and continuing through Friday. As usual, collection will be by election districts:

Monday: 1 and 4
Tuesday: 5,6,10
Wednesday: 3,9,12
Thursday: 2,11
Friday: 7,8,13

REGISTRATION SET

For Winter YWCA Programs. Winter at the YWCA means more than 100 classes and programs from mother-toddler art to adult gymnastics ready for registration on Saturday and Monday.

The health, physical education and recreation department of the YWCA has a program of dance or physical exercise to fit every need, some followed by a swim, a message or a hot sauna. There are craft classes in quilting, weaving, needlework and art, to name just a few, as well as adult education courses in a broad range of interests from assertiveness training and practical techniques in caring for the older person to writer's workshop and cooking soups and breads.

For children there are programs ranging from Toddler Fun Club, magic, arts and crafts, junior high groups and teen women programs and outings. Open swim, racquet sports and mother-daughter projects enable area women and girls to participate together.

The Mother Job. This winter the YWCA has several mother-child programs which were developed by mothers to meet specific needs and offer support to the "mother job." New mothers, especially first time mothers, are invited to join the Mother-Infant program beginning Wednesday, January 19, which, in its pilot program in the fall, featured tone-up exercises for mothers, demonstrations of exercises for baby, discussions on a particular area of concern and a question and answer period over coffee.

Mother's Dialogue Workshop is for mothers of children age 1-10 and grew out of last April's Day for Mothers. It features a professional speaker on the last Wednesday of the month followed by an informal discussion of the topic on the following Wednesday. "Creativity in Children" will be the first topic, and others will include "Children's Sexuality and Development," "Roles in the Family," "Reading Readiness," "Problems of Separation Anxiety," "Cognitive Development," and "Values and Aculturation."

Registration for all programs and classes will be held on Saturday from 9 until 3 and Monday from 9 until 8:30. Brochures are available at the YWCA office, Paul Robeson Place. All classes begin the week of January 17.

Call the YWCA, 924-4825, ext. 13, for more information.

LUNCHEON PLANNED

To Benefit Hadassah Unit. Princeton Hadassah is sponsoring a winter luncheon and panel discussion, "Women-1977," Thursday, January 13. A panel of guests will cover the changing roles of professional women in today's society.

Tigers Whip Notre Dame, 76-62; Take Aim on '77 Ivy Title Next Question: What can Princeton's basketball team do that Maryland, UCLA and Indiana can't?

Answer: Beat Notre Dame.

The Tigers did it so convincingly (76-62) Monday night before an SRO crowd of 8,000 in Jadwin Gymnasium that throughout almost the entire second half, it was not a question of whether they would win but by how much. The Irish, victora in their first seven games, including road triumphs over Maryland and UCLA, were beaten by what at times was almost a makeshift lineup that Pete Carril steered to another of his long line of astonishing successes.

Guard Doug Snyder, whose 51 percent average, mostly on shots from well outside, was benched for the evening with a severe ankle sprain. Forward Frank Sowinski was in early foul trouble — three with 7:30 to go in the first half — and played only 24 minutes, eventually picking up his fifth personal with nearly three minutes left. Guard Billy Omeltchenko was withdrawn after a violent collision in the second half, but managed to return to help run down the clock.

Sophomore In Charge. Atoning for such attrition were a superb performance in the backcourt by sophomore Tim Olah, whose ball - handling was the major factor in beating the constant Notre Dame press, and the ability of 6-8 center Bob Roma to stay out of foul trouble. The big sophomore clocked 39 minutes, more than any other player, and was withdrawn only when the outcome was fully sealed.

If Princeton's new - found ability to keep control despite backcourt pressure was a vital factor to victory, it was second only to another eye - catching defensive performance from Carril's disciplined brigade. The Irish came in shooting 52 percent but were whittled down to a measly 39, and in their desperation to score, often handed the Orange and Black valuable one-and-one opportunities.

The visitors began with a flurry of jumpers that showed why they had compiled an awesome 85-points per game average (a low of 78 to a high of 105, with four of their eight opponents nationally ranked.) Coach Digger Phelps' team hit on 8 of its first 11, and with just over eight minutes gone, had a 19-13 lead.

The final 11 minutes and 34 seconds of the first half undoubtedly rank with the best basketball a Princeton team has played. Smothering the Irish attack with their glue-like man-to-man, the Tigers cut the 8-for-11 shooting to 2-for-14 and outscored the South Bend quintet, 22 to 6. An Omeltchenko steal and layup with four seconds left made it 35 to 25 at the half.

Lead Increased. When action resumed, Princeton retained almost total control, building its lead to margins such as 45-30, 51-34 and 57-41. Now and then, Notre Dame's pressing skill paid off with steals or in-bounds infractions against the Tigers but their lead never slipped below 14 points despite the fact that for several minutes, Carril was using only two starters (Roma and Slaughter) and three reserves (Bob Kleinert, Olah and Rich Rizzuto.)

One major asset the Orange and Black normally manages to unfurl did desert it: the 80 percent foul - shooting average it brought into the game and could call third best in the nation. Missing on the front end of a number of one-and-one situations in the second half, the Tigers were

THE MAN WHO: Fine leadership by Captain Bob Slaughter has been a major factor in Tiger basketball team's 7-2 record.

Tigers Win Tournament, Topping St. Bonaventure and Ohio State

In a field that included a perennially strong eastern independent (St. Bonaventure) and a well-regarded Big Ten quintet (Ohio State), Princeton's basketball team proved the dominant factor last week at Rochester, N.Y. The Orange and Black won the Kodak Classic by defeating the Buckeyes, 67-62, following with an uphill conquest of the Bonnies, 59-55.

Not only did the Tigers win their first holiday tournament in 11 years (since the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational, with victories over Navy and Mississippi State), but they bagged most of the post-tournament honors. Frank Sowinski was named the most valuable player among the 48 individuals competing and both he and sophomore and Bob Roma were named to the all-tournament team. An award for the best sportsmanship displayed during the event went to Captain Bob Slaughter.

A good deal was working against Coach Pete Carril's team in the championship game against St. Bonaventure, which had posted a 6-1 record this winter. Guards Bill Omeltchenko and Paul Snyder were bothered by ankle sprains, the front line of Sowinski, Roma and Slaughter were all in second-half foul trouble and shortly after the intermission, the Tigers were trailing, 41-33. Of the 6,000-plus fans on hand, better than 90 percent were vociferously in favor of seeing the Ivy Leaguers decked.

What transpired was a workshop demonstration of events that occur when a high-powered offense is confronted by a skilled defense. Axiomatically in sports, the defense should dominate, and dominate it did, to wit:

- The eight-point deficit was erased in less than five minutes by an 11-2 Princeton surge, giving it a 42-41 lead and the upper hand for good.
- St. Bonaventure, averaging 83 points a game coming into the contest, went 10 minutes without making a field goal.

Averaging 56 percent in field goal shooting to rank second in the nation in this category, the Bonnies were so restricted by the Tigers, who rank among the top five defensively, that they managed but 21 percent during the decisive second half. On the night, they were 35 percent–far below their previous average.

Young Aids Momentum. A three-point play that 6-11 Tom Young, the reserve center, set up when he blocked a shot by the losers gave Princeton great momentum in the closing minutes. His rejection sent the ball toward center court, where Paul Snyder grabbed it, raced in for a layup and converted the extra point when he was fouled.

That made it 46-43, Princeton, and although the Bonnies were often within a field goal of drawing even, they never closed the gap. At the end, four points on successful one-and-one conversions by Sowinski and Roma proved invaluable insurance.

Snyder's 17 points were high for the Orange and Black, which put an uncharacteristic four of its five starters into double figures in both games. Omeltchenko was the only man not to collect at least 10 in either game. Roma, improving steadily in the last fortnight, was top man for the tournament with 33, followed by Sowinski with 31, Snyder with 27 and Slaughter with 23.

Princeton balanced its fine defensive work with shooting that just topped 50 percent in each game. In the first half against Ohio State, the Tigers sizzled at 65 percent.

Romp Doesn't Develop. Toward the end of the first half against Ohio State, Princeton was in near-total command with a 13-point lead, but instead of putting the game away early, the Tigers committed several defensive lapses and the Buckeyes were always withing reach until the final minute.

That 13-point margin shrank to 37-32 at the half, and was whittled all the way down to one (55-54) with six minutes to go. Roma then steadied the shipwith a one-and-one conversion and a 22-foot basket, and the losers never again came closer than three.

The triumph over the Buckeyes gave Princeton the odd game in a series of 11 contests that began as far back as 1921. The victory over St. Bonaventure was the Tigers' first; the Bonnies had won a regional NCAA game when the teams first met in 1961.

In other games, St. Bonaventure reached the finals by beating Rochester, 59-40, the host team using a slow-down in vain to try to keep pace. Consolation action saw Ohio State win from Rochester, 69-55.

SPORTS FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you By John Bernard

Here's a surprising Super Bowl fact...Did you know that one man has played in half of ALL the Super Bowl games to date...There have been 10 Super Bowls so far, and Marv Fleming, amazingly, played in 5 of them...He was in the first 2 with Green Bay, in 1967 and 1968, then was traded to Miami where he played in the 1972, 1973, and 1974 Super Bowls.

Oddly enough, the record for most points ever scored by a team in any Super Bowl was set in the very first game, and has never been broken since...Green Bay scored 35 points in the first Super Bowl, and no other team in the Super Bowl has ever topped that.

Here's an oddity...The 2 teams who started American football and played in history's first football game--Rutgers and Princeton--have never been to a college football bowl game!...Neither Rutgers nor Princeton has ever played in a post-season bowl.

I bet you din't know...that we have a major medical insurance policy with a $10,000 deductible and $250,000 limit. Fits nicely on top of Blue Cross—Blue Shield—and it is reasonable.

no better than 65 percent at the free - throw line — the only extent to which the night's pressure told.

It mattered little, because the victors' floor average was a red - hot 54 percent. Their new - found ability to beat the press sent one player after another in for layups, and some of them were three - point plays that always kept the second - half margin beyond Notre Dame's recall.

Three Princetonians were in double figures before the intermission: Slaughter with 11, Sowinski and Roma with 10 apiece. At the end, Omeltchenko and Kleinert had joined them for the kind of balance that, combined with a tight defense, made an actual rout of a nationally - ranked (eighth) team possible.

Slaughter was top man with 19, four more than the losers' best individual effort, on 7-for-12 shooting and 5-for-5 at the line. Sowinski, who contributed 18 points in the 24 minutes allotted to him, batted an astonishing 1.000: all six from the floor and all 6 foul shots.

Roma, some of whose 15 shots were not of the best as the learning process continues, had seven field goals and three fouls for 17, while Omeltchenko added 11 and Kleinert, a solid replacement for Sowinski, had 10. Omo engineered six steals, only three less than 10 Notre Dame players managed among them.

Ivy Play to Start. Now the Ivy race begins, with Princeton hoping to become the first Tiger team to defend its title successfully since Bill Bradley graduated in 1965. Harvard will be here Friday at 8, Dartmouth the following night at the same time and Penn, the pre-season favorite, will be waiting in the Palestra Tuesday. The contest with the Quakers (tapoff, 9:15) will be televised by WOR, Channel 9.

About all that Harvard and Dartmouth will have going for them is the hope to catch Princeton resting between the clash with Notre Dame and the trip to Philadelphia for the important meeting with Penn. The Crimson lost the four top scorers from a team that faltered badly last winter, dropping to an 8-18 mark after five straight division Ivy finishes.

Captain Jeff Hill and Jonas Honick, both seniors, provide experience in the back court, with 6-8 junior Steve Irion, the only player with any height, at center and Steve Ackerman, Cy Booker and Doc Hines alternating at forward. Coach Tom Sanders' team is 3-6 on the season.

Former Princeton player and assistant coach Gary Walters has been having all kinds of problems at Hanover, to which he returned abruptly last March after an abortive switch to Davidson, which lasted a scant fortnight. Word was that fan pressure against his selection resulted in his returning unexpectedly to Dartmouth, which thought highly enough of his ability to welcome him back.

Injuries and illness striking key players has saddled the Green with a 1-6 record in the early going, with two potential starters probably lost for the season. The Green was a fine 16-10 under Walters a year ago, when he was named New England coach of the year, but even the .500 mark this winter is out of sight.

Penn a Major Question Mark. Picked to dethrone Princeton as the Ivy champion this season on the strength of three solid veterans and a standout freshman team, Pennsyvania has run into an astonishing amount of trouble. After six games, the Quakers were no better than 2-4.

Keven McDonald, who doubled as ECAC Rookie of the Year and the Ivy League's Sophomore of the Year, heads the holdover strength. Last winter, he averaged 19 points a game.

Senior Mark Lonetto directs the attack from his guard position, while 6-11 Henry Johnson returns at center after a year's absence because of illness. Top sophomores are forwards Tony Price and Matt White, along with guard Bob Willis.

A near-total enigma to date in view of its slow start, Penn has to prove itself against the Tigers on Tuesday. If Princeton wins at the Palestra, it will be a major step toward retention of the Ivy crown.

HOCKEY TEAM AT HOME

Saturday Against R.P.I. Victor in one of its four holiday tournament games against strong opponents, Princeton's hockey team will play in Baker Rink Saturday night at 7:30 against Rensselaer Polytech. The Tigers have won twice in 13 games this season.

No sooner had it been written here last week that R.P.I. was one of the few remaining teams on the Princeton schedule which the Orange and Black might beat than the Troy, N.Y., sextet knocked off Clarkson, the no. 1 team in the east. After a slow start, R.P.I. has raised its record to 6-6 and may have somewhat more than the struggling Orange and Black can handle.

In two tournaments, Princeton managed a split at Syracuse, losing to Cornell but beating Colgate. At Durham, N.H., the University of New Hampshire, rated second to Clarkson on the eastern ladder, won, 7 to 4, and Dartmouth followed by knocking off the Tigers for the second time this winter, 6-4.

A better defense might have engineered a major upset for Princeton in its game with UNH, which the Tigers led, 3-0, after a mere nine minutes of play. Sophomore Craig Tresham got a pair for the Tigers and Trevor Kilburn the other.

The home team cut the margin to 3-1 before the round ended, however, and wrapped matters up with a 5-0 second period. It was much the same story in the consolation round Monday night, Dartmouth holding a 1-0 lead after 20 minutes but breaking the game open to lead 4-1 after two.

At Syracuse, Cornell found itself in an unexpected 3-3 tie with the Tigers as the second period ended, but the deadlock lasted less than a minute after the final round began. After the Ithacans had taken a 4-3 lead at 0:41, they added a pair of shorthanded goals, finishing with five in the closing 20 minutes to make it an 8-5 final. Sophomore Craig Tresham led the losers with a pair of goals.

Having lost, 6-4 to Colgate in mid-December, it was greatly to the Tigers' credit that they won the second meeting between the two teams, 3-2. An overtime battle loomed until Frank Techar banged in a rebound from John Van Siclen with 1:35 to go.

Craig Tresham's goal just before the second round ended had created a 2-2 deadlock, Barry Wihak getting Princeton's other score. Fred Cherne, starting his second game in the goal, got his first victory on the strength of 49 saves.

Boston College won the tournament with a 6-4 victory over Cornell. In first-round action, B.C. outscored Colgate, 9-6.

PHS Quintet Becomes First Team to Repeat As Winner in Kennedy Memorial Tournament

Princeton High School joined its court confreres in the winners' circle last week when it defeated North Hunterdon, 67-61, Thursday to capture the Kennedy Memorial Invitational in Everittstown for the second year in a row–the first team to repeat in the tournament's eight-year history.

The same week, Princeton Day School won the Hightstown Invitational Tournament–also for the second year in a row–and Princeton University defeated favored St. Bonaventure in the championship game to capture the Kodak Classic–its first victory in a holiday tournament in 11 years.

In winning seven straight, the Little Tigers have zigzagged all over the court. They have squandered big leads in the final period and they have come back late in the game to erase deficits. They have played good defense and poor defense; they have alternately been disciplined and ragged.

Yet when it counted most–at the end–they have been on top.

PHS coach Marv Trotman put it into perspective after his team managed to hang on to defeat Hopewell Township, 57-55, in the semi-finals after once leading, 40-15. "You have to keep in mind," commented Trotman, who is a guidance counselor at PHS, "that these kids are 16 and 17 not college kids. These things will happen."

But as Trotman has said after each cliff-hanger, "I'm happy to take a win anyway I can get it."

The 7-0 record gives the Little Tigers a ton of confidence as they begin play in the Colonial Valley Conference. They will play the first of 12 league games Tuesday evening at 8 against St. Anthony's in Trenton.

Off its early showing, PHS has to rank as the team to beat for in the conference, which also includes Hightstown, Hopewell Valley. West Windsor and Notre Dame. Hopewell Valley was the preseason pick.

Moore Is MVP. Tommy Moore, the hero in Princeton High's last second win over Hun a week ago, came back for a reprise in the championship game against North Hunterdon. One of the best "sixth-man" players in the area, Moore tied the score at 41 with a jumper at the end of the third period--his third basket–and then scored 11 of his team's 26 points in the final quarter.

His exploits earned the 6-1 senior the Most Valuable Player award in the title game.

PHS had built a 33-25 Halftime lead on the shooting of Junior Oldham, who had 15 of his 21 points in the first half, and Mike Fuschini, whose 15 points all came in the first two periods.

The Lions (5-3) then outscored PHS 2-to-1 in the third period to tie the game and it looked as if PHS was on the verge of falling apart as it had the previous night against Hopewell Valley.

But PHS opened the final eight minutes with a layup by sophomore John Sapoch, a three-point play by Moore and an Oldham jumper to grab the lead for keeps. "We were able to find the open man; we didn't fold this time," said Trotman.

Ken Bullock added eight points and Todd Blackledge and Sapoch three each for PHS. Hunterdon's Scott Becker led all scorers with 28.

The PHS-Hopewell Valley Clash–heralded as a glimpse of what to expect in league play–was a classic example of how widely momentum can swing from one team to another.

The Little Tigers combined their speed, quickness and full court press to gain an early lead, and after they scored the first 13 points in the third period, they owned a 40-15 bulge. The Bulldogs, however, had earned a reputation this year as a team that had battled back from huge deficits only to fall short at the final gun.

Hopewell lived up to its reputation by starting to apply pressure of its own, forcing the Little Tigers to commit numerous turnovers. It outscored PHS, 20-10, in the last eight minutes and was within two on a Mark DeLucia jumper when time ran out.

"We got out in front and then let them get back in the game," said Trotman, who nonetheless gave Hopewell credit for its comeback bid. "They stuck right in there."

Oldham had 17 points for PHS, Fuschini 12 and Blackledge and Moore 11 each. Chris Kelley paced the Bulldogs with 18. One factor in the win was Princeton's ability to hold HV scoring ace Craig Miller to seven points–two in the first three periods.

In the tournament's consolation game, host Delaware Valley finished third with a 59-54 victory over Hopewell Valley (Miller rebounded with 19 points) and Voorhees Township defeated Middlesex, 76-49, for fifth place. Chatham Township finished seventh in the eight-team event with a 48-46 win over Palisades.

winner of this tournament last year, will return to defend her title.

Other nationally-ranked players include Marigold Edwards no. 3, Mary O'Toole no. 5, Judy Michel no. 7, Lisa Griffin no. 8, Carol Weymuller no. 9 and two top players from Australia -- Sue Newman and Marge Zachariah.

Among the top contenders will be Dede Webster of Princeton, Wendy Zaharko, former Princeton University captain who won the National Intercollegiate Championship, and two more former Princeton University captains, Sally Fields and Cece Turney. In addition, eight Princeton team members will compete, including captain Amy Knox, no. 3 in the intercollegiate division.

Princeton Association players include Jackie Green, Lois Tegarden, Beverly Gellner, Margie Fisher, Julia Baum and Chris Halpen.

The results of this tournament will determine which players will be asked to compete in the Bancroft Invitational to be held in New York City.

HUN BEATEN TWICE

In Hightstown Tournament. The Hun School basketball team is a solid club -- until the final few minutes of play.

Hun finished last in the Hightstown Christmas tournament last week when it allowed Lawrence to score the final seven points to win by five, 71-66. It was eliminated in the opening round by Hightstown in the final second of play, 64-63, after failing to hold a 43-35 lead, and in its previous start, Hun owned an 11-point margin over undefeated Princeton High at the start of the final period before losing by two points in the last three seconds.

As a result, Hun has lost its last four and its record has dipped to 4-5. The Hightstown tourney was won for the second year in a row by rival Princeton Day School which stopped Hightstown in the final round, 50-38. Last year, PDS defeated Hun in the finals.

Whether Hun will continue to become unglued will be tested three times this week. It will play Newark Academy Friday evening in Elizabeth and then oppose Pennsylvania School for the Deaf away on Monday.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 it will meet Princeton Day School for the only time this season. The game will be played in the PDS gym.

Payton Gives Hun Lead. Against Hightstown in the tournament's opening game, Hun seemed to be in command when Ron Payton connected on four baskets at the start of the third period to give Hun a 43-35 margin.. Then after Dave Malloy – the game's leading scorer with 27 points – had tied the game at 60 for the Rams, John Brady's three-point play gave Hun the lead again.

Mark Ehler's layup with 10 seconds left brought the Rams within one but Payton was fouled. Paytoo, who had 25 points for Hun, despite picking up his third personal only 7:15 into the game, missed the front end of the 1-and-1.

Malloy, fouled by Hun's Ken Duvin after Hightstown inbounded, sank his first throw to tie it and then after Hun had called time to let him think about it, he connected on his second attempt. One second showed on the clock.

John Brady contributed 19 points and Duvin 11 to the Hun attack. Hightstown outscored Hun 16-9 in the final period. The game was tied at 31 at the half.

In the contest with Lawrence, Hun placed four men in double figures -- Payton had 28, Duvin 14 and Tom Dillione and Bob Innocenzi 10 each -- but the Red and Black were up against hot-shooting Mark Rubando, who poured in 36 points, including six of the Cardinal's last seven when they snatched the game away from Hun.

Payton was named to the all-tournament team along with Rubando, Malloy and Carl Hill and Mike Walters of PDS.

WW 3 WINNERS, PHS 1

In County Mat Tournameot. West Windsor emerged with three individual champions—the most of any of the nine competing schools—and Princeton High School, one, in the Irish Invitational—the annual Mercer County Christmas wrestling tournament held last week.

Steinert won the team standings with 122½ points followed by Notre Dame (101½) West Windsor (95½) and PHS (86). Ewing was fifth with 63½. Notre Dame, Steinert and Ewing each won two individual championships while PHS, Lawrence and Hamilton had one.

Team captain Jim O'Grady was the lone winner for PHS, defeating Steve deDufour, 2-1, of Hopewell Valley in the 158-lb. title match. It was the only point yielded by O'Grady, who was seeded No. 1, in the tournament. He won 5-0, and 8-0 in earlier matches.

Champions for West Windsor were John Houtenville at 122 pounds, who was a county champion as a freshman; Ernie Rich, who came from behind to edge PHS standout Dave Wilson, 9-7, in the 135-lb. class and Rich Holcombe, a 5-1 victor over Princeton High's Keith Wadsworth at 170 pounds.

Both coaches, Tom Murray of PHS and Ken Bernabe of WW were not entirely happy with the outcome. "I was disappointed; I thought we would do better," said Murray. "The kids were quite happy," commented Bernabe, "but to tell the truth I was thinking we could win it."

Last year PHS and WW tied for third place with 41 points each. This year, the Pirates trailed the Little Tigers going into the fioals but pulled ahead of them when three of its four finalists triumphed. PHS had sent five men to the championship round.

Tough Saturday Matches. Both schools face powerful opponents Saturday. PHS will be at Hunterdon Central for a 2 p.m. match while WW will tangle with Jackson Township, winner of the 15-team Wall High School Tournament last week, and ranked among the top 20 teams in the last year.

The Little Tigers were also scheduled to play host to Ewing this Wednesday in an 8 p.m. match. The Pirates were scheduled to oppose Notre Dame this Wednesday evening in the Irish gym in its first Colonial Valley Conference match.

"We've never beaten Notre Dame in wrestling and this is the one we want to win," said Bernabe. Both schools presently own 2-2 records.

PHS lost chances for more individual champions when Matt Wilkinson, seeded third, lost a 12-2 decision to Chris Cantwell of Notre Dame in the 101-pound final and Joel Schulman, seeded second, lost 11-4 to John Patsaros of Steinert at 115 pounds. PHS 122-pounder, Eric Tazelaar, seeded second, finished third when he defeated Ewing's Chuck Sackett, 3-0, in the consolation round.

Miller's bout with Rich in the 135-pound title match ended in confusion. Referee Don Wright indicated the bout ended 7-7 and signaled for an overtime. But Bernabe insisted that his wrestler had not received all the points that had been awarded him.

He claimed that Wright had lost track of the points he had awarded. "You cannot give out two predicament points without giving reversal points. It was unfortunate for Wilson, but it was nobody's fault but the referee's," Bernabe commented.

After a long discussion among Wright, two alternate refeeres, both coaches and the tournament director, Rich was declared a two-point winner.

"Totally wrong," declared Murray. It's ridiculous to handle a situation like that. At least, they should have let them go one-on-one in overtime."

West Windsor's Houtenville amassed 49 points en route to his championship, a mark which Bernabe predicted "would not be equalled for some time. There's only one thing I can say—he was devasting."

Princeton Day Quintet Quickly Proving This Will Be More Than Rebuilding Year

TOURNAMENT MVP: Randy Melville and Princeton Day both repeated their performances of e year ago at the Hightstown Tournament last week. Melville was named most valuable player for the second consecutive year and the Panthers won the tourney again.

What was all that talk, a lot of it from this corner, about the problems the Princeton Day basketball team was going to have after the superlative season last year?

Apparently that's all it was, just talk, with too much emphasis on who the Panthers had lost through graduation, rather than who was still available or new to the team. Heading into the Hightstown tournament last week as defending champions, the Blue and White won the two-day event again with victories over Lawrence High and Hightstown.

Last year at this point, the Panthers were 8-0, now they are 6-1 (Wardlaw game not included), with the only blot on the record, a loss to undefeated Pennington School. There are several factors for the successful start.

To date PDS has shown the same ability it did last year to win the close ones, which is all the more amazing considering the difference in experience. The starting five a year ago all had much more varsity playing time.

Returning this year, Randy Melville and Mike Walters have naturally been the main cogs in coach Alan Taback's machine, but even more impressive is the way the other players have been able to play a steady brand of basketball, especially in pressure situations. Freshman Carl Hill has added scoring punch, and junior Andy Sanford has been good off the boards and on defense. Two other freshmen Jim Bartolomie and Tim Murdock have also shown well.

Credit is certainly due to Taback for his ability to pick up the pieces after last year's great season and put together such a fine team so quickly. It's been no easy trick either, the Blue and White has yet to play a contest on its home court, and won't until next Wednesday's game against Hun.

This Wednesday, PDS was scheduled to play Wardlaw away, their eighth consecutive road game.

Deliberate Style Works. In the victories against Lawrence in the opening round, and Hightstown the following night in the finals, the Panthers used the same deliberate style of play that has worked for them from the start of the season.

Starting slowly against Lawrence, PDS fell behind 9-6 early in the second period, but then ran off 27 points to just eight for the losers, and played keep away for the rest of the game. PDS led 36-19 at the end of the third period, and finished 42-32. Melville had 12, Hill, 10, Walters, 9, and Sanford, 7 in the balanced attack.

In the finals, the Blue and White displayed another fine example of team basketball, working the ball around until a good shot opened up. The pace was a little quicker this time, and PDS jumped out to a 10-4 lead in the first period, and never lost it. Hightstown closed the gap to 18-16 at the half, but the third quarter proved decisive as the Panthers outscored the home team, 19-10.

Walters proving he can score just as well with his hands as his feet, pumped in 24 points, a career high, to lead the way. Melville finished with 13, and his numerous assists and tenacious rebounding earned him the tourney's MVP award for the second year in a row.

It's a great start for Princeton Day, but as Taback has said, the real challenge now is to keep it up. The schedule includes future games with the likes of Lawrenceville, who the Panthers have never beaten, Pennington, Princeton High and Trenton High, and Pennington is almost certain to be the big hurdle in the State Class B championships at the end of the season.
